Vicki

What a super exciting year in yearbook. Sam Hunter is so hot. WOW! So is your future husband! Yay! Im glad you're doing yearbook next year b/c it would suck if all the [redacted] fun people quit. Saved by the Bell will play again next year. Have an awesome summer & make sure you say hi to Sammy for me!

Sarah Rogers

Dearest Vicki,
Hopefully I don't get your yearbook taken away... so I am writing sneakesh I wonder if sneakeshly is a word? Anyway... Jacob is a word? Anyway... Jacob would [redacted] like to say "hi!" but he can't because he's been in an accident, so I'll say it for him, hi. Well, I'm mad we stoped hanging out... call me up some time. 248-9418
Osara

Hey Slut,
It was cool being in lunch and Geo, [redacted] meeting you and everything. Over the summer don't slut it up too much. Well and ways we should chill or something. Maybe mud wrestling and Ert beat me sometime. Your ass, Call 481-5510.

I sorry I put 2 y instead of an I ... !! Now so we have had some incredibly amusing moments in yearbook... Getting out of class to eat free food, watching Sarah Byrne Bell, "I hate Nikki!!" Vicki + Vjll - you're like the same person LOL - j/k, B's "attention glasses" - ewwww!!, I am the homewrecker in your marriage (NOT to Brandon!!), you're the thin brunette suburban wife/ soccer mom; I'm the busty blond mistress. LOL. Ya! Call me 581.2225.

Bye Susan

Nicky, haha yr Vicki

English was fun! not!

But speaking of Freaday was

we (me yourself and pizzatime)

should all hang out

this summer. PEACE!

- Vicki -

It was cool that we got to hang out this year
Even though you thought I was annoying anyways have a great summer and don't forget to call me #450-1452
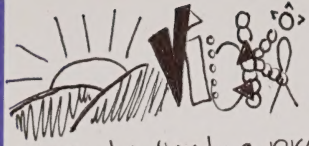
Tyler



Ah! What a pretty good year this was. I am so glad we were in the same P.E. class this year so we could talk about everyone and why they bothered us, nah. Even though we don't hang out anymore I still consider you one of my best friends. Thats why over the summer we need to hangout, go to the beach, or something. Your the best! I love you man! You are hillarious, you crack me up! Maybe I will do crew next year, and you can introduce me to some of your guy friends, han! Have an awesome summer, def. call me please!

Hey Vicki!

We survived math analysis (kind of) - at least it is over! Summer is finally here! Don't be a stranger this summer - we should hang out - I mean we live close enough to eachother! Only two more years and you are done! I can't believe how old we are - it's so great! Hope to see you this summer - my cell number 754-8439.

Love ya,
sharon

~Vicki~

WOW!! Where has this year gone?!?! I can't believe that we're almost juniors, seems like just yesterday we were scooting over Ceylon wayyy back in the day. I'm so glad we've remained good buddies, you're such a wonderful girl and you've got the BEST sense of humor! I really hope to see you this summer and I've got my fingers crossed that we'll be in some more classes together next year! I love you Vicki... have an amazing summer!!

In the Blink of an Eye

For many students, it seemed as if it were just yesterday that they were leaving school for a long relaxing summer. While some felt that getting back into the swing of the school routine would take forever, most seniors realized that the all too brief passage of time had brought them to the end of their high school career. Somehow the end of the year arrived, and everyone was left wondering where the time went. In the blink of an eye and a flash of blue and gold, another Patriot year came and went.

1. Clowning around after three or four hours of ocean kayaking, Wes Payne and Kirk Scifres gather up their equipment. Wes and Kirk spent most of their spare time in the summer enjoying water sports. 2. Advancing down field, the Patriots' opening kick to the Cavaliers results in a touchback. Jeff Pfeiffer, kicker, was ranked fourth in the district at the end of the season. 3. Standing next to his 1960 Chevy Bel-Air, Steve Nimitz shows off his hot new wheels. Steve purchased his "new" car over the interenet from E-Bay. 4. Cooking Ramen Noodles in a home-made hat, Mark Emborski makes a funny face. Markwas able to find a temporary home at Becki Lee's houseduring the summer, especially in the kitchen.

Every day in the life of a Patriot was filled with some kind of excitement. Whether it was a sporting event, a big test, or simply some everyday fun, students were always busy with some activity. The weeks might have been filled with lots of hard work, but students definitely knew how to relax on the weekends. All the numerous activities and fun times made for an extremely memorable year that flew by as though it were a day.

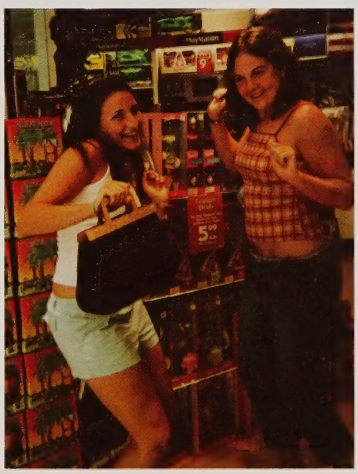
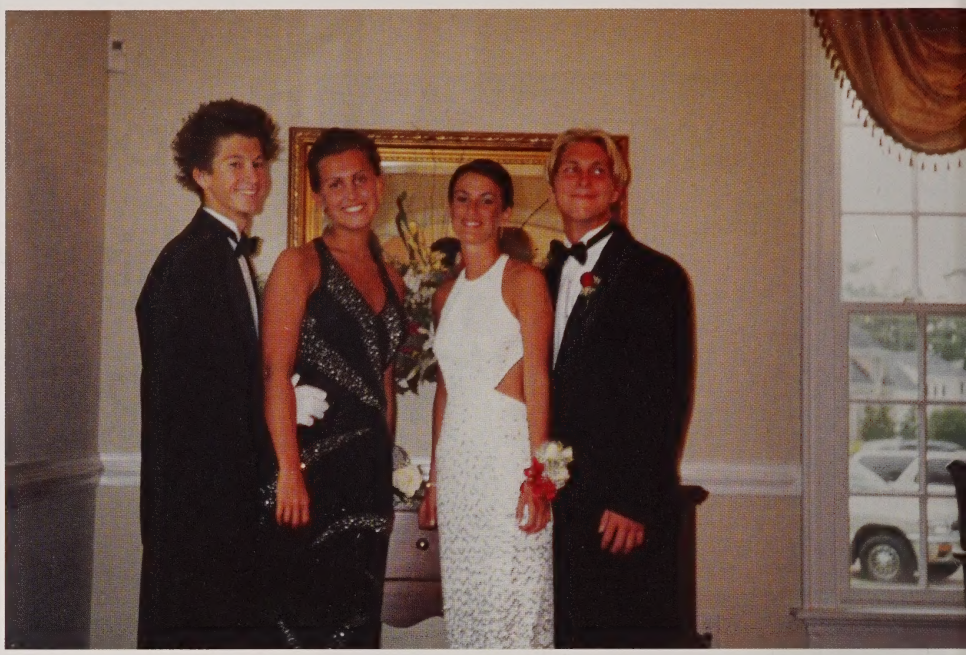
1. Showing their support for the Duke Blue Devils, Ashley Ezell and Ryan Ward cheer their favorite basketball team to victory. Ashley and Ryan enjoyed taking weekend road trips to support their favorite college teams. 2. Enjoying the company of good friends, Kellyn Hensley, Jake Kepka, Kelly Bernd, Rob Gordon, Jessica Miller, and Jeff Pfeiffer relax after another fun day at Young Life camp. Enthusiastic students made the trip to Crooked Creek, Colorado for week long camp during the summer. 3. Proudly posing for the camera after shoving twenty-five pieces of bubble gum in their mouths, Lauren Madey, Rachel Refo, Aynsley Birkner, and Cailin Davis enjoy their long bus ride home from Richmond. These serious scholars also knew how to have a good time. 4. Shopping at K.B. Toys, Cailin Davis and Mary Kate Ludwig strike a pose for the camera. Cailin and Mary Kate spent much of their time together during the summer goofing off.



Posing at Sara Polino's house, Brian Rabchuk, Stephanie Granger, Emily Routten, and Gordon Templeman submit to th traditional pre-prom picture taking for parents. The three seniors and one junior, Emily, looked forward to a fun-filled night o dinner and dance.



Goofing around, Andrew Foster hits the dance floor with Chris Lowman. Andrew enjoyed showing off his family kilt.

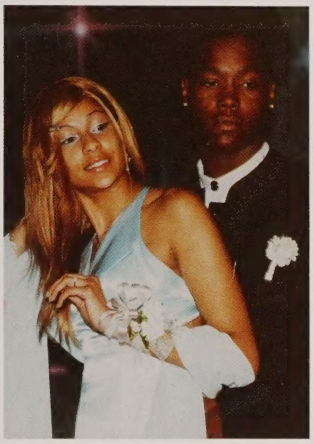
Showing off their formal gear, Shannon Warnen, Jess Salter, Mary Gale McGregor, Crystal White, Brandi Kreinbrink, and Jen Moore stop dancing to give a pose. The gir dazzled their dates and were satisfied that all the prepping for Senior Prom paid off!

Celebrating Good Times

Graduation and Senior Prom

As she shakes hands with Mr. Hill, Emily Andre recieves her diploma with the other hand. Emily, along with the other graduating seniors, was excited to be starting a new chapter in the walk of life.

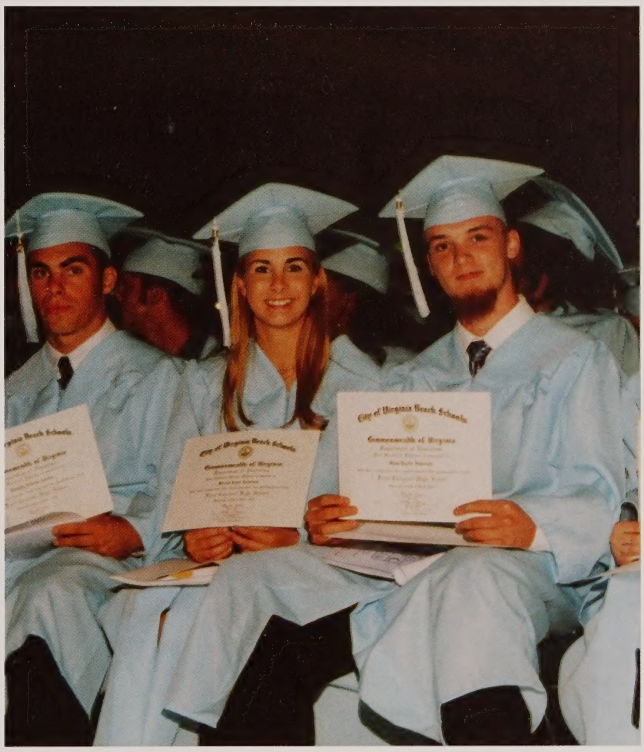
Hoping to beat the flash of the camera, Aaron Rouse's date jostles her hair before the picture is snapped. They both looked forward to enjoying an eventful night.



Senior Prom marked the culmination of high school. Held at the Norfolk Marriott, it was "A Night to Remember" when even bad weather couldn't put a damper on the excitement. "When going out to the limo, it started hailing," recalled Emily Routten. Stephanie Granger remarked, "When you and your date walked in, NJROTC raised their swords as you walked through. It made you feel special and added to the ambience of the evening." Farley Hale disagreed. He thought, "The best part of the night was dinner."

"Graduation was a joyous evening, but many tears were shed as the students all gathered at the end", added Ali Leadem. Held at the Virginia Beach Pavilion on Saturday, June 15, 2002 at 7 p.m., seniors, faculty, family, and friends gathered to celebrate, take pictures, and yell loudly with joy at the sight of their student making the walk across the stage to receive their diploma. Afterwards, many seniors participated in the annual PTSA sponsored "Grad Fest" held at the Great Neck Recreation Center.

Receiving a hug from a faculty member, Valedictorian Barbara Besal clutches her diploma tightly. Barbara looked forward to attending William and Mary in the fall.



Proudly displaying their diplomas, Tim Amidon, Mariah Anderson, and Ryan Anderson show off their accomplishment. Tim, Mariah, and Ryan revelled in the fact that they were some of the first to take the walk across the stage.

On the Silver Screen

A Ring Dance to Remember

As the Grand Affairs Ballroom was overflowing with many eager dancers and couples chatting away while enjoying the refreshments, the 2002 Ring Dance was to become a very special night to remember. The theme, "On the Silver Screen", captivated the imagination of many of the girls as was evidenced by the number of glittering gowns. Juniors were also there to pick up their class rings which they purchased earlier in the year. This occasion brought groups of friends closer together, as they enjoyed going out to dinner and dressing up in their very best attire. The night was lit up with excitement as friends were making memories throughout the evening, but sadness was also noticed in some faces as couples and friends began to realize that there wasn't much time left in their high school career. Romance filled the air as couples were brought closer together while they slow danced to the soft tunes. It was altogether unforgettable, and it was a special memory that many of the students would have forever.

At the end of a dance, Samantha Marks, Rachel Whitlock, and Matt Cole show how much of a good time they are having. This trio of good friends made sure the night was the best ever for them.

Taking a break from the dance floor, Jackie Parsons receives her class ring from the Jostens representative. Jackie proudly places the ring on her finger which will be a reminder of her high school days.

All dolled up, Luvoe Jones and Tanelayia McJunckins pose for the professional photographer. Luvoe, a senior, escorted Tanelayia to the Ring Dance where they both enjoyed a very special night out.

Showing off their beautiful smiles and lovely outfits, best friends Laura Seipal and Meaghan Schindler provide a lasting memory for their parents. Laura and Meaghan prepared almost the entire day to be sure they were ready for their dates.

Gathering under the trellis, Crystal Bridges, Shanetta Green, Tamia Allen ,Taneka Harris, Chaquana Roulhac, Shanna Dozier, and Alicia Boone show off their outfits before entering the dance floor. Their close friendship required that they have a picture of their special night.

Taking advantage of the change of pace in the music, Casey Bowling and her date enjoy the slow dance. Couples were able to catch their breath and enjoy being close.

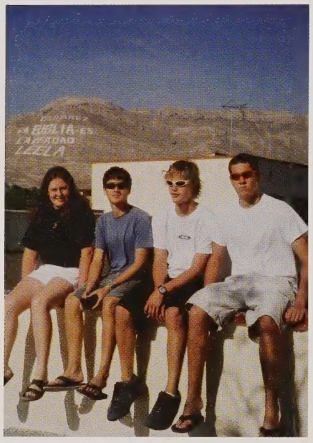
Enjoying the sights of Mexico, Jenna Davis, Tim Gaster, Brenton Ryder, and Mike Davis relax along the roadside. These four students from the Virginia Beach Community Chapel were part of a mission trip to help build houses for the residents.



Feeling like a star, Alana Kucharski strikes a pose in front of the famous night club, Moulin Rouge. Alana enjoyed her fun filled vacation in the dreamy city of Paris, France.

Catching some air, Craig Roberts shows off his wakeboarding skills. Craig spent a week at wakeboarding camp in North Carolina.

Hoping to acquire some notoriety, Morgan Sieg, Candi Wong, Jessica Depriest, Brittany Guido, and Tommi Casper pose with a few professional Spanish soccer players. The girls had a wonderful time while they were in Rome.

Summer Fun

Fun in the Sun

Eager for school to end and summer to begin, students looked forward to the various activities in which they would participate. The end of school meant having almost two and a half months of freedom from scholastic responsibilites. While some students traveled within the United States, others sought adventure over seas or south of the border. But while there were a lot of students who stayed in Virginia Beach, either working a summer job and enjoying the company of friends and various summer activities, there was also a group of students who spent time volunteering as missionaries with their church youth groups in Mexico and parts of South America. Surprisingly, several students traveled to places all over Europe and Asia. Those not quite as forunate visited locations closer to home such as the beach, Hatteras Island, and Busch Gardens. The most important outcome was that lasting memories were made.

Goofing off in the fountain at the University of Richmond, Erica Prince and Garrett Magee take a break from their studies. They spent the month of July at the summer Governor's School for Visual Arts.

Taking a short break from their hike, Alex Whitworth, John Hawley, Kendall Couch, Rachel Morrisett, Ted Ricker, Pat Kenney, Colby Hoes, Lauren Antle, Drew Hurst, Paige Hardee, Jake Kepka, Peter Hamar, andBrian Eason enjoy.their last few days at camp. Young Life members spent a week of fun in Colorado.

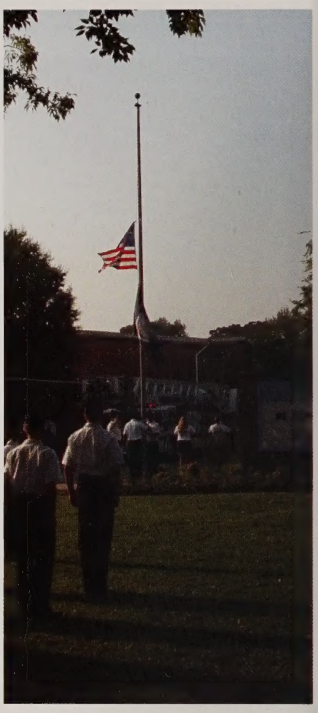
We Will Never Forget

"There is no little enemy" Benjamin Franklin

No truer words were spoken than by Benjamin Franklin in September, 1733. Neither could the founding fathers have ever envisioned the state of the union in the twenty-first century. The horrifying events of September 11, 2001 which was better known as "9/11", were not forgotten on Wednesday, 9/11/02. As soon as the NJROTC Color Guard had raised the flag, senior, Lisa Marie Barnes opened the ceremony by singing the National Anthem over the public address system. A moment of silence followed to remember the devastation of the New York World Trade Centers, the Pentagon and the airplane crash in the fields of Pennsylvania. The herorism of everyday citizens in the planes and on the ground as well as the firefighters who gave their lives saving others and the policemen who bravely lent their help. Poems and short essays were read by other students. It was a beautiful ceremony put together by Mr. Hill, Officer DeMartini, and many others who offered their help.

As the fire truck pulls to a halt, Dr. Jesse walks out to the flag area to start the ceremony. Band Director, Mr. Frank Garcia gave final instructions for getting into position.

While the American flag is being raised, students from government classes watch as it gains in height. The Social Studies department involved all its classes in the ceremony during fist block.



"We Remember 9/11" is placed on the marquis for all to see as they traverse Mill Dam Road. This saying remained there to encourage all citizens to remember the devastating occurrence and to unite as one.

Watching the fire truck, the NJROTC stands awaiting their turn to participate. The NJROTC did a wonderful job of providing dignity and honor to the ceremony.

Showing honor to the flag, the government classes and Senior Chief Petty Officer Stephen Fields stand at attention. Teachers, students and all participants remembered the day with a moment of silence.

Preparing to play, the band members line up awaiting directions. Drum Major Colleen Fitzpatrick made sure the players were quiet and focused.

As the flag is being raised, the Marching Patriots play America the Beautiful. The members of the band contributed their talents to the 9/11 ceremony.

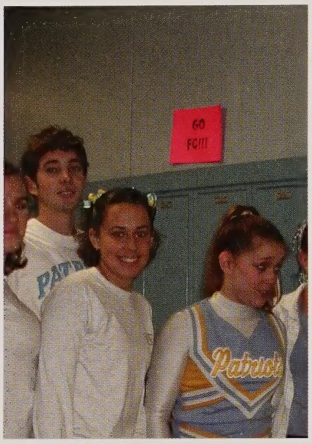
Proceeding down the line, Principal Dr. Hazel Jesse and Vice Principal Mr. Carlton Hill shake the hands of the officers to show their appreciation. We take for granted the things they do for our country everyday, and Dr. Jesse thanked them for us all.

Standing in silence, the officers watch the waving flag as it is being raised. They wanted to honor their fellow officers who participated in the emergency rescue efforts at the Pentagon in Washington, D.C., the World Trade Twin Towers in New York, and in Pennsylvania.

Positioned on the sidewalk in front of the school, the students from the Social Studies classes stand for a moment of silence. The students paused to reflect on the bravery and courage of American citizens put in harm's way.

As twilight approaches, the symbol of the battered Falcons rests silently at the end of the football field. Members of the football team had enjoyed pounding the vehicle and writing on it the day before, and were proud of the colorful display that they would present to the opposition that night.

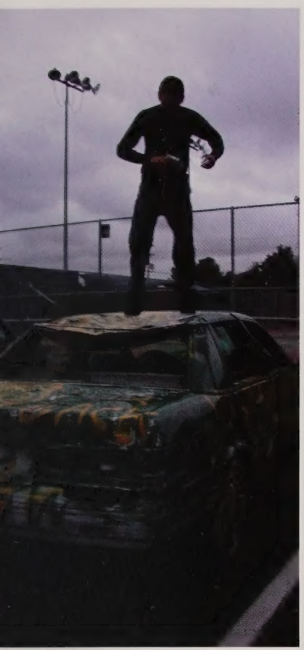
Roaming the halls, Laura Seipel, Kyle Naughton, Megan Schindler, and Christy Ropero anxiously await the start of the Homecoming Pep Rally. These seniors tried to build enthusiasm among the student body for the upcoming game against Cox that night.



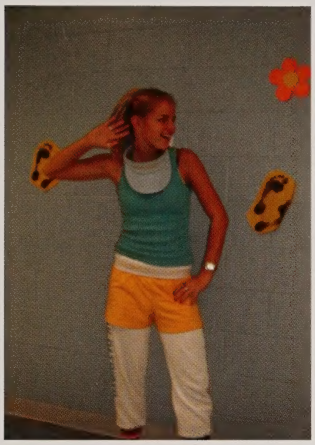
Screaming and shouting, Kyle Naughton, Ryan Manion, Jim Woods, Jimmy Kinane, Greg Acton, and Kevin Evitis cheer on the mighty Patriot football players at the Home coming game. They all stuck together in the relentless cold and watched the Falcons go crashing down.

Spirit Week

Pride in the Partiot Carolina Blue, White and Gold



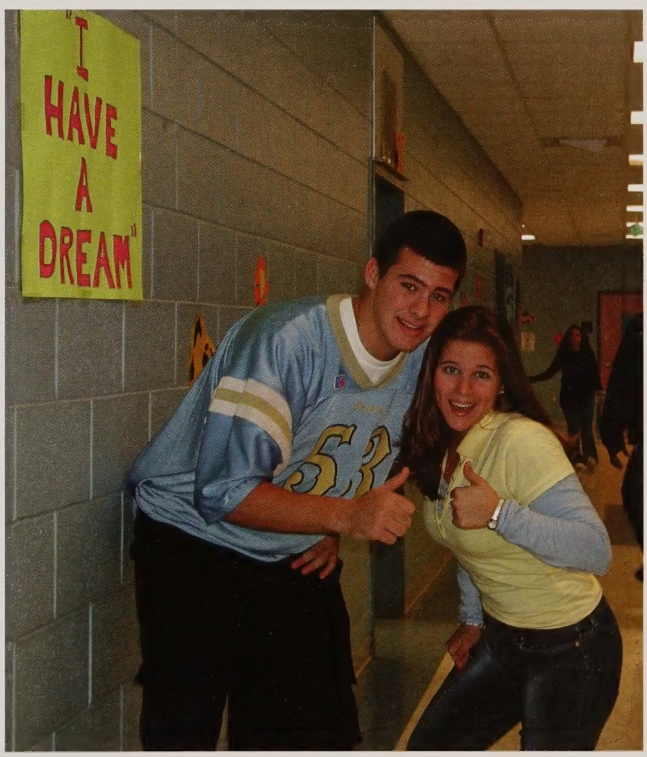
Standing on top of the beaten car,Casey Williams displays his enthusiasm for the future victory over Cox. His confident attitude became reality when the Patriots demolished the Falcons later that night.



Striking a pose, Rachel Refo shows off her Carolina blue, white and gold. Rachel was proud to show her support for the Patriots.

Activities for student participation in Spirit Week was organized by the Student Council Association. This was a time set aside for students to show off Patriot pride by participating in Jeans day, Sports day, Decades day, Stars and Strips day, and, Spirit day for homecoming week On Friday, October 25, students dressed in the colors Carolina blue, white and gold and made preparations for the pep rally held twice during fourth block. During the pep rallies, Lauren Hockenbury and Kelley Quinn sang the National Anthem, the Patriot Pep band played upbeat music, the cheerleaders and the dance team performed their routines, and the members of the football team were introduced to the student body. Teachers also participated by allowing randomly selected sophomores to smash a pie of shaving cream in their faces. Throughout the week, the school was covered in spirit from banners on the walls to the Patriots clad in school colors. On Friday students mostly enjoyed painting their faces and wearing ribbon halos in preparation for the game that night.

evelling in the fact that his $1 ticket was chosen to smash a cream pie in Mr. Bennett's ace, Russell Kelly is very happy to be a sophomore at that moment. Mrs. Hope Damergis, Ms. Page Larson, Mr. Paul Bennett, Mrs. Amy Martin and Mr. Doug MacDonald were the victims of the sophomore lottery at the Homecoming Pep Rally.

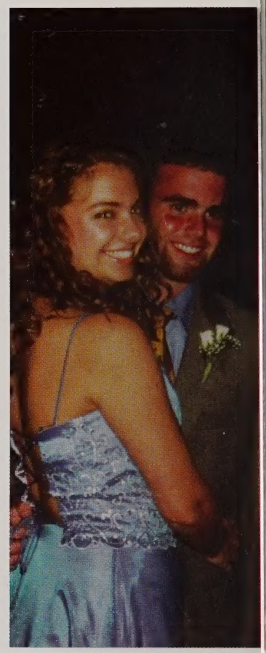


Giving a two thumbs up for the anticipated win over Cox, Kyle Monroe and Kerri Carter display their Patriot pride. Kyle and Kerri were dressed in Carolina blue, white, and gold ready for the pep rally to begin.

Homecoming

An Echo in Time

An Echo in Time was the selected theme for the 2002 Homecoming event. Students were seen clad in face paint, blue, gold and white. Some had pom poms and noise makers to add to the festivities. Each class created a float and presented it during the half-time parade in the hopes that theirs would receive first place. The Homecoming Court processed on to the field and the King and Queen were finally announced. During the musical presentation, an historic first was made when the band and the orchestra played together on the field. The victory of the game, and the perfection of the dance helped make it a weekend to remember. Alana Kurcharski described the night of the dance as, "A perfect and magical night." "Homecoming was a great experience," commented Ashley Smith, "I had a blast dancing and talking with friends the whole night. The decorations were great too. Thanks for making such a magical night SCA!" added Ashley.



Dancing the night away, Alana Kucharski and Keith Darrow take a minute to pose. Alana was excited to bring an ODU sophmore friend to the dance.

During the half time festivities, Jessica Miller, Elizabeth Curren, Morgan Sieg, and Lynn Nesselrode cruise around the track in the Student Council Association car. These four SCA officers worked together to help organize Spirit Week, Homecoming night and the Homecoming dance on Saturday.

Members of the SCA lead the parade of floats during the halftime show. The SCA was responsible for organizing all of the homecoming events.

Arm in arm, Tommi Casper and Jack Donohue pose for a picture after being chosen as Homecoming King and Queen. They were selected by secret ballot by their peers.

howing off their school spirit, the Varsity Cheerleading squad yells for the crowd to show their support. The girls enjoyed their de around the stadium track during the Homecoming half time parade.

Waiting for their dates to arrive, Elizabeth Dadamo, Tiffany Wiggs, Krystle Andrassy, and Becca Bissell pose for a picture. The girls were excited to celebrate their first Homecoming Dance held in the gym on Saturday night.

Advancing on to the field, the football team shows just how aggressively they intend to play. The Varsity Cheerleaders organized the balloons and created the banner for the Homecoming game.

Before leaving for the Vans Warped Tour at the GE Ampitheater, Brittany Swan and Christina Palmeri cozy up for a remembrance photo. The girls were so excited to go to see their favorite bands and get to see them together.

During their ninth grade year, Laura Seipel and Meagan Schindlev began a friendship that resulted in becoming best friends. They were also both participants in the Governors School for the Arts which took them to NSU and ODU during each school week.

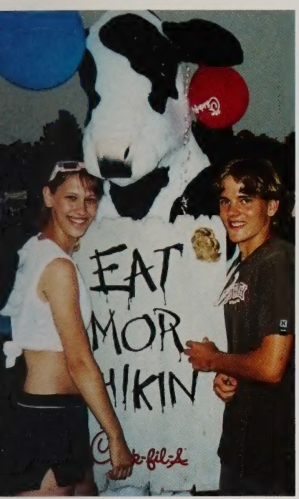
Lounging on the long sofa, Eugenia Vasilarakisw, Ditmiti Lambros, Petro Bardaoulis, and Evdokia Mavros are taking a short rest before they go out to visit several teen clubs while in Greece. They were permitted to stay out very late at night, and enjoyed their summer vacation together.

Best Friends

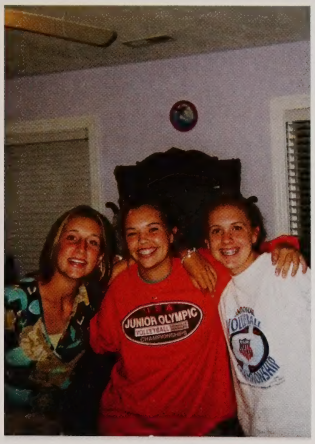
Wherever you go. Whatever you do. We'll always be best friends forever.

Words from the song sung by Lucille Ball and Ethel Merts, depicted the true meaning of best friends. They were there for the good times and the bad, and helped the other friend through the situation. They shared hopes and dreams, sadness and happiness and ,yes, even fears. Best friends were the priceless jewels in the milestones of everyday life. These special friends could make the worst day somehow seem irrelevant as they guided thoughts and emotions to more positive thinking. Being goofy with your best friend was one of the most enjoyable aspects of the relationship, as seen between Meredith Siviter and Myra Marshall acting silly out in public. Best friends were the ones on whom you could call at any time for any reason. Ann Marie Wilson and Hannah Gutschera were such good friends that even though the Atlantic Ocean separated them, the girls remained the best of friends through letters. Then there were the inseparable friends such as Brittany Swan and Christina Palmeri. Best friends could have been called our sisters or brothers because they stood by our sides for the rest of our lives through the ups and downs.

tanding next to the Chick-Fil-A cow at Hilltop, Melissa Gummo and Mike Hurlbut smile and have a good laugh. They enjoyed eating at one of the more avorite spots for hungry Patriots.



Taking some time out from their summer vacation, Taber Carpenter, Kristen Hawley, and Travis Farrell get together to have some fun. These three shared many fun times during the summer as best friends.



tanding in front of the Gentlemen's room at a local resturant, Meredith Siviter and Myra Marshall strike a pose presenting the door. Their sense of humor never wained or a moment.

Hanging out during one weekend, Hannah Gutschera, a foreign exchange student, and AnnMarie Wilson enjoy a girl's night out. The two girls remained best friends as pen pals after Hannah returned to Germany.

Brotherly, Sisterly Love

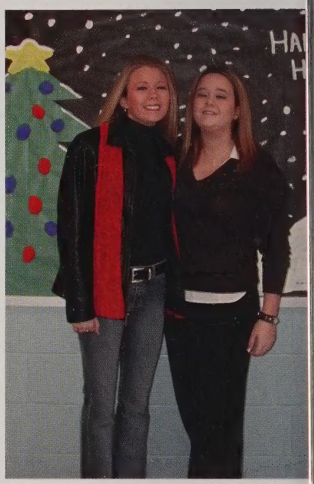
Siblings

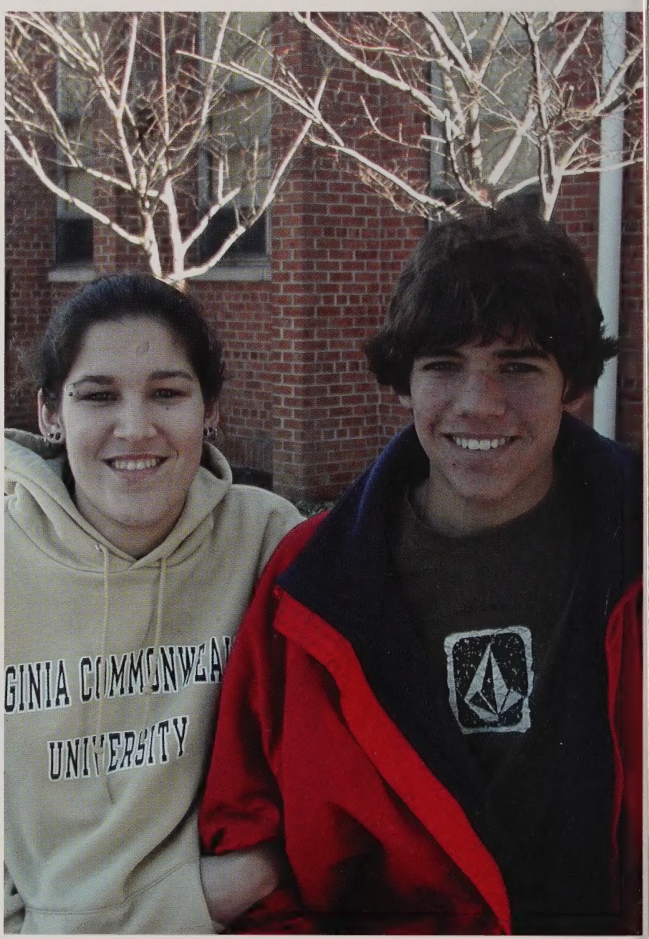
The love that brothers and sisters shared for each other was the kind that could not be replaced or duplicated. The memories that they made together would later result in laughter never to be forgotten. When the going got tough, brothers and sisters could count on easch other to stand up fo the other. They were also the ones who tried to protect each other from bullies. Older brothers and sisters ended up helping their siblings most of the time with homework and projects they didn't understand. Reassurance was the key quality in which sisters asked if their outfit looked fantastic or coordinated better than others. Brothers on the other hand usually played video games, sports, or went hunting together. While siblings annoyed each other just for the fun of getting the other sibling in trouble, they truly loved each other. Others like Will and Lauren Hall took time off for road trips and visiting the beach in their spare time. Whatever their interests might have been, brothers and sisters found time to share what they enjoyed doing with each other.

Bundling up, Laura and Lynna Seipel share a warm embrace before going out in the cold. As sisters, Laura and Lynna were best of friends.

Cherishing their special twin sisterly love, Katherine and Rebecca Arline stand side by side. The Arline sisters have gone through many challenges and continue to support one another.

Sisterly love prevails between Jemika and Devayon Scutchings. The senior and junior sisters enjoyed being at the same school together.





Linking their arms together, Lauren and Will Hall continue to smile and keep each other warm. They always found some activity that interested them, such as spending time surfing together.

Posing in their cheerleading uniforms, Brittany Schaefer and Jen James are happy to be on the squad together again. Both girls participated on the gymnastics team and played in the orchestra.

Dressed up for their cousin's wedding, Craig and Christine Roberts enjoy the family event at the Spring Branch Church. Craig and Christine were on the swim team for two years, and enjoyed surfing and wakeboarding in their spare time.

During a break at the afternoon assembly at "October Weekend at Chanco", Becky and Kelly Yates get together for a "family" photo. It was a tradition for them to attend the church camp each fall. Becky and Kelly also enjoyed serving in the Key Club and working the annual blood drive together.

Faces

Frozen in Time

Each day in the life of a Patriot provided multiple opportunities to meet new people and learn more about each other. Students met in the parking lot, talked in the hallways, and cheered on their sports teams together, catching up with old friends and meeting new ones along the way. One glance in the hallways displayed a kaleidoscope of personalities. Athletes, scholars, thespians, and many more came together daily, providing a diverse array of Patriot faces that would soon be frozen in time.

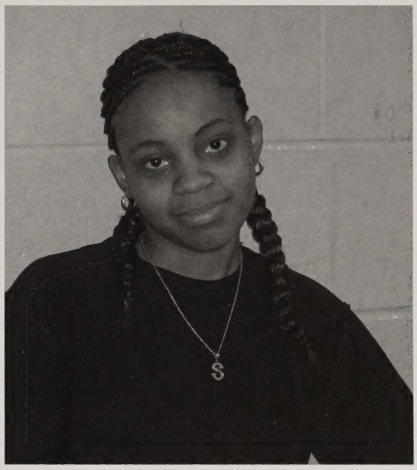
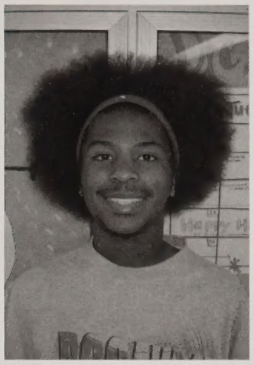
To Weave or Not to Weave

WEAVE:
HAIR DO OR HAIR DON'T?

A lot could be told about a person by their hair. Most students agreed that the "do" that attracted the most attention was the "weave." Junior, Shamika Sheperd, was a big fan of the weave, although her favorite styles included the trek, the synthetic braid, yaky, human hair, micro braids, and corn rows. "Micro braids could take between 8 and 9 hours to put up, but corn rows only take about one," explained Shamika. While her usual color choice was burgundy, Shamika did not get her different styles done to match an outfit; however, she did choose special colors for special occasions. When asked her personal thought about the weave, Shamika exclaimed, "It's 'unbeweavable'...cuz it's me!"





Showing his favorite hair style, Antonio Dejesus displays the "fro". Antonio preferred this style, although he did occassionally wear the "weave".

Where to Park?

Walking to Mill Dam Court from school, Brandon Holtz and Justin Kuenzer prepare to go home. Brandon and Justin preferred parking off campus to riding the bus.

PARKING?
SCHOOL, MILL DAM, OR CAMELOT

At age sixteen, students looked forward to the freedom provided by obtaining a driver's license. Having access to an automobile meant no longer having to ride the bus or carpool with someone else; in short, freedom. For a small fee of $15, students could purchase a parking decal, but seniors were allowed to purchase their's first, then underclassmen. If there were no more available spaces, students had the choice of parking on Mill Dam Court or close to Camelot and then walking up the hill to school. Perhaps, sometime in the future, someone will come up with a workable solution to the lack of parking space.

Skipping Classes

AFFECTIONATELY KNOWN AS SKIPPING, DODGING CLASS, SLEEPING IN

There were a variety of creative ways which students developed in order to skip class: bathroom, water, snack machine, clinic, locker or use the phone. They skipped out for numerous reasons, too. Sometimes they didn't have their homework, while other times they just needed a short break from the routine and the ninety minute classes. One anonymous junior related, "I skip because I despise school and am annoyed with all the kids in the halls. When I skip class, I like to go surfing, to a friend's house, or just chill and kick back." Although the penalty for skipping was either ISS or OSS, some students still chose to gamble on not getting caught.

A group of students admit to having skipped school . Most declined to be interviewed or give their names.

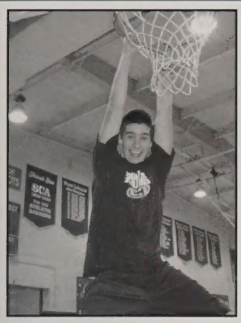
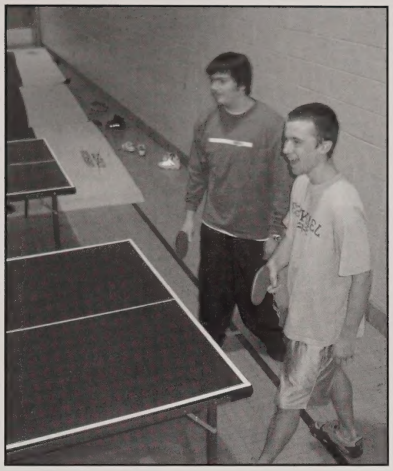
Physical Education 11



Hanging from the basketball hoop, Ted Ricker yells, "Being in PE gives me a natural high." Ted showed how much he enjoyed PE 11 with much enthusiasm.



WHY DO YOU TAKE ELECTIVE PE 11?

Physical Education 11 was an elective class that some juniors decided to take. The activity of the class kept them busy and in good physical shape. Michael Hurlbut remarked, "I don't mind dressing out everyday. If you're an active person, you should take the class. It's lot's of fun." The purpose of the course was to encourage students to maintain an active, healthy lifestyle, especially through activities such as tennis, golf, volleyball, ultimate frisbee, dance, weight training, basketball, orienteering, and recreational games. The emphasis was placed on developing strategies and participation skills, and learning the rules. These were skills the teachers hoped the students would continue to develop for the rest of their life.

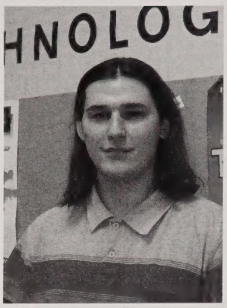
Spring Break



Awaiting spring break, Ryan Lambertson plans his over seas vacation, and Amanda Fletcher plans to work. Students chose to do many different activities during their time off from school.

WHAT DO YOU DO FOR SRPING BREAK?

The most anticipated time away from school (apart from summer, of course) was Spring Break, because the weather had just begun to warm up and there was a remainder of only fifty-five days until school would let out. One junior class member, Amanda Fletcher, described her Spring Break as , "I hang out at home and work." Meanwhile other students were talking about the planned vacations with their families. Ryan Lambertson explained, " I'm going on a family trip to Europe. I can't wait." Other students visited family or friends, or went on road trips with their closest friends. On the other hand, others partied at home with their friends who didn't go out of town. Some were preparing for college by using that time to visit different schools. Spring Break was a much needed time away from studies and the school routine no matter what kind of activity a student chose to pursue.

Practicing sitting behind the wheel of Emily Routten's car, Vickie Rabchuk revels in the moment of learning to drive. Vickie was going to begin her Driver's Education class in a few days and couldn't wait to get started.

Learning to Drive

One of the most exciting moments in every teenagers life was becoming licensed to drive. There was nothing compared to jumping behind the wheel of a car and taking the first drive of freedom. But first, every sophomore had to pass the Driver's Ed and Behind the Wheel course. "It's really not a hard class," said Vickie Rabchuk. "It's one of my favorite courses this year, especially the part where you get to drive." A lot of sophomores said that the hardest part was staying calm and focused during the final test of Behind the Wheel. All the sophomores who successfully completed the course received their license, and with time and experience became confident drivers on the road!

During the 31st Annual Thor National Opympics in November, Chad Lyall soars through the air. He was ntered into the largest amateur motorcycle racing event in the world.

Teen motocross rider Chad Lyall competed during Thanksgiving weekend through November 30 at the 31st Thor Winter National Olympics held in Gainsville, Florida. This event was the largest amateur motorcyle racing event in the world. Chad entered the local racing circuit in 2000 and quickly progressed to the amateur competitions. Last January 25-27, Chad rode his way to the winner's circle in his second indoor dirt bike competition at the National Arenacross in the Hampton Coliseum. Traversing the course of hard-packed dirt and clay, Chad performed twisting hairpin turns and a series of mounds and jumps in the 125cc race.

Thinking of all those great times she had with her friends, Becky Squibb tells how she made the best of the rainy days. Becky confessed her enjoyment of splashing barefoot in puddles with her friends.

How do you make the best of a rainy day?

It's raining outside. What's a student to do? Instead of looking at the negative side, many students thought about how much fun the rain really was. Many reminisced about jumping puddles or at least into them. Yes, even the "big guys" would love to play in the rain. Also, with the rain there was no yard work to be done, and sporting events got cancelled. Many of the sophomores tried to make the best of the weather by going outside without an umbrella, splashing in puddles, and just playing around. Becky Squibb commented" I love when it rains!! My friends and I always go out in the street and walk around splashing in all the puddles." Next time it rains, consider the bright side of the situation; call a friend, and go splash in some puddles.

Fatigue, confusion, and lack of interest. Sound familiar? These were all symptoms of the First Day of School Syndrome. Causes of these symptoms included the inability to find the next class, multiple "expectation" papers, and the sudden realization that a student still had 180 days to go. This disease had been known to sweep entire cities at one time. One victim, Victoria Tarkenton, reported having this disease. "I got lost about three or four times, but as the week went on I remembered where everything was." If you experienced the First Day of School Syndrome, you should have consulted your principal and not have operated any heavy machinery, such as TI-83 calculators, while taking medication.

Ashley Pawley

Going out on Friday nights to football games, movies and concerts was an important aspect of freedom to high school students. Some freshmen had limited options as to what they could do, especially since they were not able to drive. "Movies, anything involving people, as long as I'm not by myself", commented Amanda Clark. Ashley Pawley added, "As long as I'm not sitting at home alone, it's all good."

utting their heads together, Amanda clark, Elizabeth Amidor, and Ashley Pawley decide on their Friday night plans. The three rls were best friends and always enjoyed their weekends together.

THE ADMINISTRATIVE TEAM

Administrative Team

"Leadership and learning are indispensable to each other."-John F. Kennedy

Setting the example, the Administrative Team worked diligently throughout the year to help teachers and students attain a high standard in learning. From PSAT testing in the fall to SOL preparations during the course of the school year, and SOL and AP testing in the spring, the team was always willing to help coordinate and plan for student's futures.

TEACHER OF THE YEAR

Joan Grimes

Biology and Environmental Science

Teacher of the Year

"A teacher affects eternity, he can never tell where his influence stops."
-Henry Brooks Adams

Selected by her peers as the Teacher of the Year, Joan Grimes was the example of dedication to students and the learning process. She graduated from F.C. in 1983 and has taught all of her eight years here. Joan is dedicated to bringing in new and challenging ideas into the classroom. She has passed on her enthusiasm through instructing other teachers at conferences and other forums.

In-Service Days

First Week Back

"And gladly wolde he lerne, and gladly teche."
-Geoffrey Chaucer

Although probably as despondent as the students, new and returning teachers filled the cafeteria the week of August 26-30 to begin a new school year. Administrators, librarians, and security informed the faculty of old and new procedures. While new teachers toured the building to learn their way around, returning teachers hurried to set up their classrooms, and both looked forward to meeting and teaching their students.

Opening a new school year

A New SAC

"If we do not lay out ourselves to the service of mankind whom should we serve?"-Abigail Adams

Serving at Tallwood for eight years, Hollie Jones decided she wanted a change of scenery. She received her B.A. in History and Polictical Science from Longwood College. A typical athletic work week schedule sometimes resembled 60 to 80 hours. Mrs. Jones remarked, " I love it here and am very happy." Married with no children, Hollie Jones enjoys her eight year old miniature pincher and six year old Italian greyhound she got as a puppy for Christmas.

As Assistant Principal, Carol Anthony holds the ball, Dr. Jessee prepares to give it a swift kick. Dr. Jessee and Ms. Anthony showed their enthusiasm and school spirit.

Lending their voices in song, Donna Spence and Dr. Hazel Jesse sing "The First Noel". Teachers and staff members took their afternoon time to sing in the cold for a very dear friend.

Giving a big Merry Christmas hug to Winnie Ridell, Doug MacDonald enjoys playing Santa Claus. Winnie was about to pass out candy canes to twenty + teachers and staff members who came to sing Christmas Carols the afternoon of Monday, December 2.

Petting the two Brittany Spaniels, Santa MacDonald calms them down. Mrs. Lynn Lewis brought her dogs from home to take in the brisk weather and bring some cheer to all.

Winding her way through the crowd, Winnie distributes candy canes and chocolates while conversing with her friends and collegues. Even though it was bitter cold, Winnie enjoyed hearing the songs of Christmas.

SUPPORT STAFF

To Aid and Assist

"Freely we serve, because we freely love: in this we stand or fall"- John Milton

No school could function efficently without a very good support staff to aid and assist the students and faculty. Their kind and giving mannerisms were excellent examples for students to learn proper behavior in a variety of situations. As the attendance secretary, Rosemary Salem was the one person who probably came in contact with more students than anyone on a daily basis, and who took great care to validate their needs.

Rosemary Salem, Attendance Secretary

"I love the students, and I love my job."

One Second Makes a Difference

The qualities and character found in the athlete were obtained through hours, days, weeks, months, and oftentimes years of conditioning, practicing and learning how to work well with others. Being in good physical shape for endurance and execution of developed skills produced an athlete who would become a tough contender. It was important to win, but even more important to develop the mind, soul, and body for what was to come in life.

"The spirit, the will to win, and the will to excel are the things that endure. These qualities are so much more important than the events that occur."

1. Cheering for their team, Heather Rutledge, Jordan Moore, and Travis Farrell smile with pride. The Girls' Volleyball team went on to win the state title for the second year. 2. Forcing the ball towards the goal, Cailin Davis makes a great steal. Cailin was determined to fight for possession whenever the opportunity arrived. 3. The JV Boys' Soccer team huddles together to show their spirit. The boys believed in unity and displayed it to the opposition. 4. Running successfully, Derek Salter and Will Hall keep their team in position. Derek and Will worked together in every race.

Maneuvering her way towards the finish line, Jessica Mentzer flys over the hurdles. She not only cleared each one, but managed to keep the team in position for a win Pushing to the end, Troy Goldie finis the last few meters of a strong run. T was exhasted after the relay run, but proud of his achievement.

Concentrating on the 50 meter race, Hannah Gutshera sprints down the track. Hannah excelled in short distance sprinting.

After finishing her leg of the race, Erika Jones hands off the baton to Tiffany Patton who sprints to the finish line. Erika and Tiffany used their speed and teamwork to put a great finish to the relay.

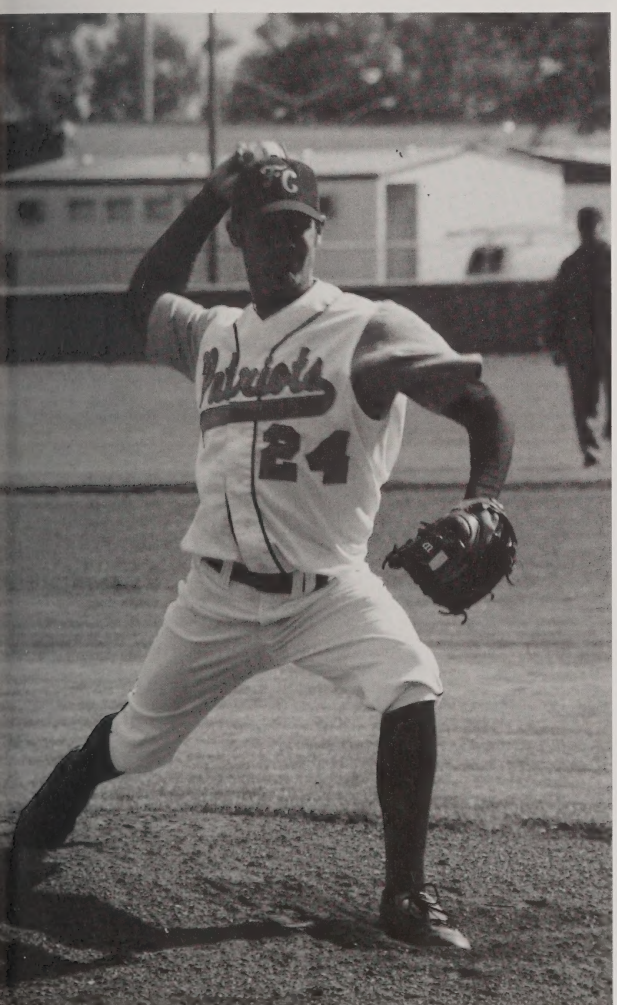
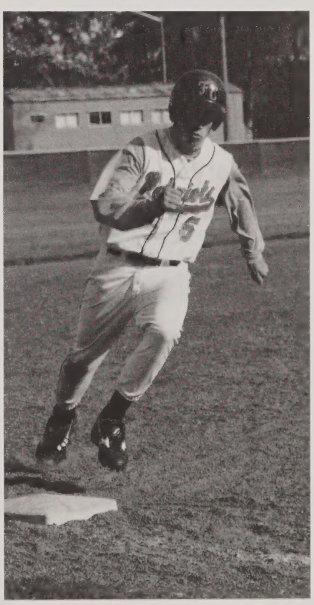
Big Hits

Successfully wiping out the opposition, the Boys' Varsity Baseball team ended with a 14-5 record. The turning point of the season began when Landstown and Bayside defeated the Patriots, but that did not discourage them. The boys were determined to win the remaining games. Making many plays that guaranteed winning points, Tyler Lovett selected as the Most Improved Player went from being an average defensive outfielder to one of the District's best. Another outstanding player was Zach Backer, who pitched, played third base and outfield, and served in the catcher's position throughout the year. His versatility helped the team in every aspect which is why he was named the Most Valuable Player. During the season, the team's skills improved and they became more focused. With thirteen juniors returning, the expectations were high for the next year.



nging forward to release a dangerous curve ball, Zack Backer puts all his strength hind the pitch. Zack successfully struck out the Cox batter proving his fast pitches re hard to hit.

Creeping off of first base, Drew Shortt anxiously awaits his opportunity to steal second. His patience paid off, and he took over second base.



Racing to third base, Tyler Lovett sets his mind on making it all the way to home plate. His determination to score brought a winning run against Princess Anne.

Smashing Hits

J.V. Baseball

Winning the first five games of the spring season, the Junior Varsity Baseball team got off to a tremendous start. But in the second half of the season, Coach Chris Parsons utilized a variety of players in an attempt to give more of the boys a chance to gain experience. This strategy could have cost the team a few well deserved victories. Billy Mueller, who was later selected as the Most Valuable Player, turned out to be the big offensive punch for the Patriots. He was successful in leading the Patriots in almost every battling category. Richard Fee was the pitcher who had the responsibility of keeping the opposition from getting to base. Due to his strong passion for baseball, he was selected as the Most Improved Player. The Varsity Baseball team also played a few JV members. Because of their gained experience, the varsity team hopes to bring them to the squad next year.

Sprinting home, sophomore Andrew Duke pushes his endurance. Duke ad another score for the Patriots against the Cox Falcons for the win.

With strength and precision, freshman Austin Wright slams the ball for another hit . Austin displayed his natural ability for the sport throughout the season.

Reaching for the ball, sophomore Richard Fee grasps it quickly in his glove. Richard's flexibility and quick thinking served him well as a first baseman.

J.V. Softball

With combined efforts and their never quit attitude, the Girls' Softball team completed the season with a 3-11 record. The players, coached by Steve Butler, improved through conditioning and practice both individually and as a team. Key players Katie Armstrong, Kaitlin Dennis, Holly Weisiger, Jessica Heath, Kristen Hawley, and Meredith Eley led the team through some winning games with their solid defense. Although there were many close games throughout the season, the most memorable game was when they came against Landstown who was projected to win. The Salem Sun Devils proved to be the most challenging opponent, but the girls managed to defeat them 15-3. Selected a Most Valuable Player was Meridith Eley, and Most Improved Player was Heather Grant. Continuing to play competitively, the girls gained experience and had fun breaking the bat.

Taking careful aim and keeping her eye on the ball, Meredith Eley positions herself for the pitch. Meredith's high batting average earned her the Most Valuable Player.

With bases loaded, Kristen Hawley slides into second making the way for other teammates. Kristen was a key player and one of the valuable starters of the J.V. team.

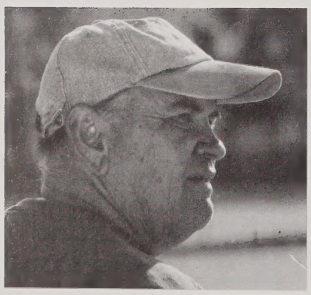
Bringing It Home

From Newtown Road to Shore Drive, the roaring screams of the crowd could be heard as the Varsity Softball team led their way to an 11-0 victory over Bayside. But the team's most memorable game came when they won their first district game against Landstown with a score of 8-7. Throughout the season the girls had many close games. Losing to Ocean Lakes in ten innings gave the girls the inspiration to work harder in order to come out on top in their next game. According to Coach Bowman, "The girls were much improved from March to May. I believe that they have a great future." Juniors, Laura Mushik, Liz Dunlap, Heather Hutchins, and Nicole Fanning, along with senior, Stephanie Duvall were key players during the season. Because of her great speed and strength, Nikki Fanning was selected as the Most Valuable Player.

Concentrating on catching a fly ball, Liz Dunlap makes the call and readies herself. It was a beautiful catch which enabled the team to beat Landstown.

Swinging full force, Liz Dunlap's power landed the ball in the outfield. Liz's strong hits kept the team motivated.

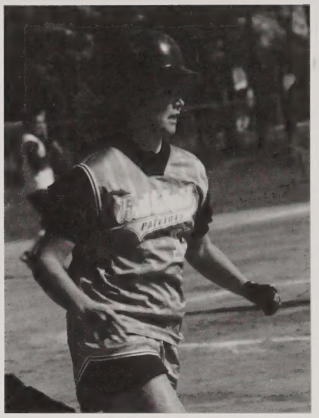


Coach Larry Bowman

Winding up for the pitch, Molly Beiderman anticipates the next play. Molly's gr pitching strategy led the team to an amazing victory against Bayside.

owing the ball at lightning speed, ather Hutchins makes the game's win- g play. Heather's strength and speed tributed to surprising many of the osition batters.

Keeping an eye on the ball, Becca Arline makes a mad dash for home plate. Becca proved to be a high scorer for the Lady Patriots.



After smacking the ball into the outfield, Stephanie Duvall rounds the bases. Stephanie's hard hitting ability contributed to a win over Cape Henry.

Making a fast break, Nikki Fanning charges toward home plate. Nikki's agility and speed earned her the Most Valuable Player award.

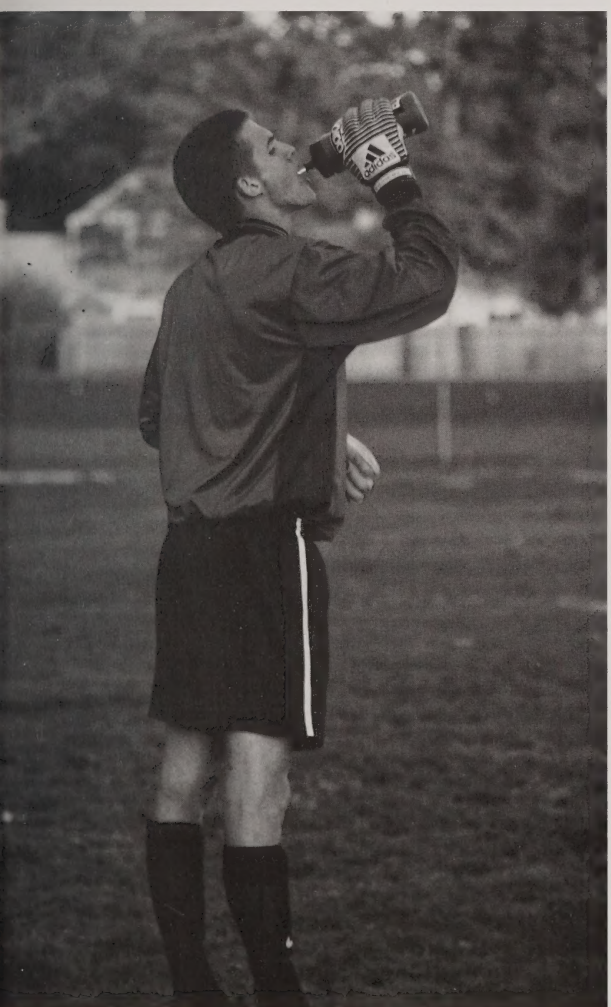
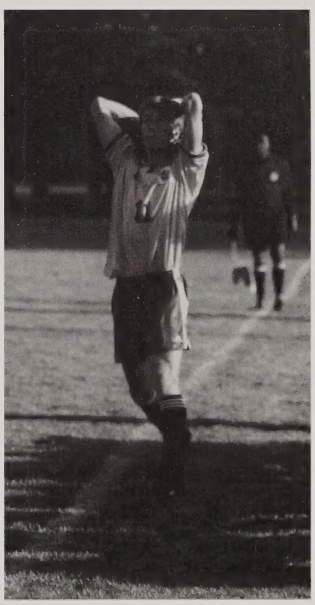
Tackling the Season

Beginning the season strongly, the Boys' Varsity Soccer team only had one loss in the first twelve games earning them the number one rank for three weeks. The most memorable game of the regular season was against the Ocean Lakes Dolphins beating them by one point. But the two most challenging games were against Cox and Kempsville where the tough zone defense and creative offensive players were the strongest. Still recovering from a broken back, Gordon Templeman was able to play and finish the season. He and Andrew Walker were selected as the team's Most Improved Players. With four players hurt at the end of the season, the boys managed to keep tackling throughout the season and end with a 10-3-3 record.





Aiming high, Sam Hunter executes a strong throw-in right past the Tallwood Lions. The strategic plays Sam and his teammates learned and their cooperative spirit proved beneficial for the play.

Getting pumped for the big game against the Salem Sun Devils, the Patriots line up as their names are announced. Before every game the players' energy was tremendous as they gave each other high fives as a sign of encouragement and unity.

Coach Joe Tucei

ing a water break, Andrew Foster replenishes himself during the game. As the die, Andrew was strong and quick, and frustrated the opposition during a ential scoring play.

Kickin' Around

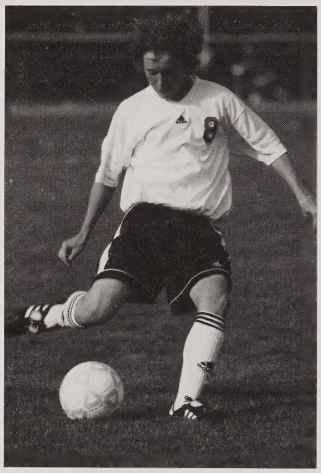
JV Boys' Soccer

With great strength and unity, the JV Boys' Soccer team pulled an 8-1 season. "It was the best JV season in four years," commented coach Matt Wallace. "They were the best group of boys i ever coached; very enjoyable," he said with a smile on his face. Giving each other nicknames such as "Osteo" for Ryan Frankenfield, "Ogar" for John Meyerholtz, and "Nasty" for Steven Berlucci kept the year filled with fun and added to the camaraderie of the group.

The players' teamwork led them to some of their most memorable moments when goalie CJ Weddle scored and "Osteo" and Will Batliner had their first goals. "This team didn't have key players," Wallace noted. "If we lost even one player, we were a completely different team." Their hard work and dedication helped lead them to victory. The boys were looking forward to playing a new season together as well as welcoming in new players.

Running with the ball, Andrew Lantz uses his magnificent speed to fly by the defender. Andrew's great sportsmanship helped lead the team to victory.

Preparing to send the ball down the field, Tyler Lynn winds up for a strong kick. Tyler advanced the ball for a winning score against Landstown.



In a desperate attempt to steal the ball, Jason Champion struggles to sneak by his opponents. Being the captain, Jason was consiered a key player on the team.

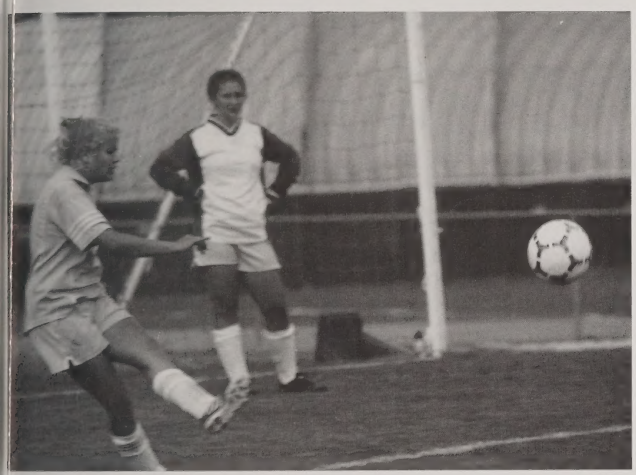
JV Girls' Soccer

Giving the ball a real good kick, the JV Girls' Soccer team ended their season with a 9-1 record. One of the most intense games was against the Kellam Knights which ended in a win of 4-3. Jaime Withers was the leading scorer ending the season with a record 20+ goals. Key players were Jaime Withers, Ashley Peay, Kendall Jackson, Kristen Trost and Andrea Aiken. Alayna Hogge was selected as the team's Most Improved Player. "These girls are tough players. They worked hard this season to think as one utilizing all their skills in every game. I'm very proud of all their efforts", commented Coach Mike Mc Farland. One of the outside activities enjoyed by the team members was their weekly pasta parties. The girls had a great season outscoring nine opponents by playing hard and strong and coming together as a team.



Watching the ball closely, Aubree Lovett uses her foot skills in an attempt to keep the ball from being stolen. Aubrie was able to keep the Princess Anne Cavalier from gaining possession.

Taking the kick, Andrea Aikin fires one straight in the goal. The personal foul point brought the team closer to victory against Kempsville.

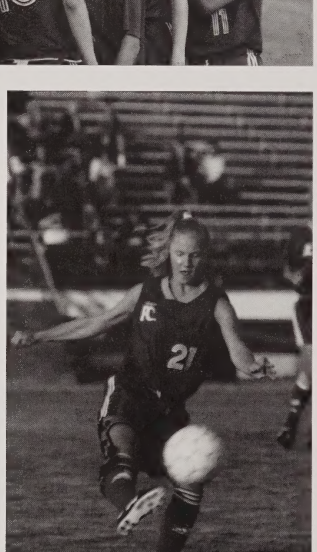
Reciprocity Baby!

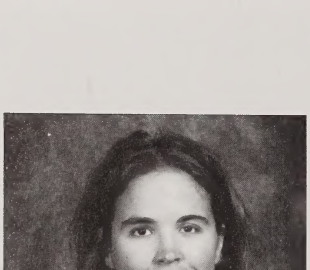
Learning to give their best to the team , the Girls' Varsity Soccer team's battle cry was "Reciprocity Baby!". They ended the season with an 8-1-7 record. According to Coach Staci Skipper, "The most memorable game was at the end of the season against Kempsville when we won 5-1. We were determined and played with heart." Although it ended with a tie, the most exciting game was played against the Great Bridge Wildcats where it was exceptionally suspenseful as each team only managed one point. Key players were Kristen Kenney, Barbara Besal, Leigh Levitt, Kim Ferrari, and Morgan Sieg. Lauren Madey received the award for Most Valuable Player. As goalie, Barbara Besal was an impenetrable wall to the opposition. Leigh Levitt, Kim Ferrari and Brittany Doyle played all over the mid-field while Emily Ackerman, Kristen Kenney and Morgan Sieg controlled the forward line.

Getting their game faces on, the girls prepare to do battle. They knew the Great Bridge Wildcats would be tough to beat.

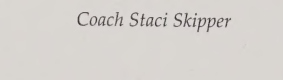


Rushing to claim possession of the ball, Jody Cooper sends the ball into the air on its way down the field. Jody made a successfull pass to advance for a score.

Forcing her way through the defense, Leigh Luvitt uses all of her strength to possession of the ball. Leigh's aggressiveness helped move the team into a po to score a goal.

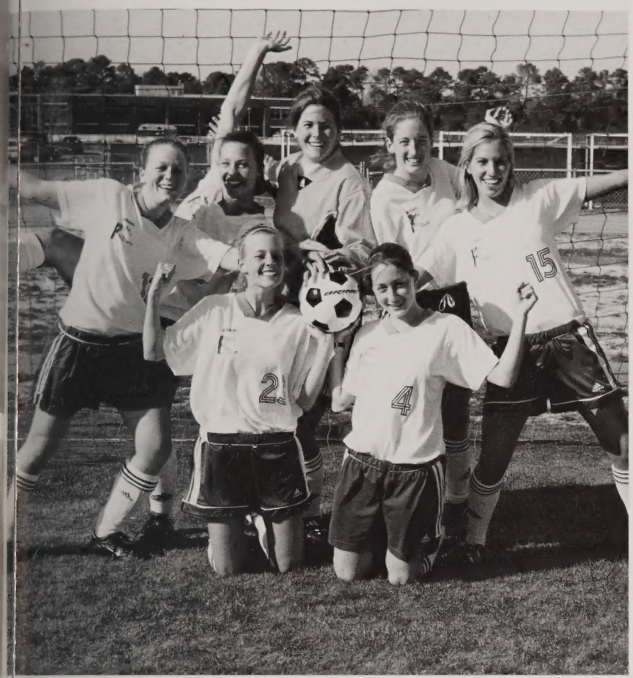


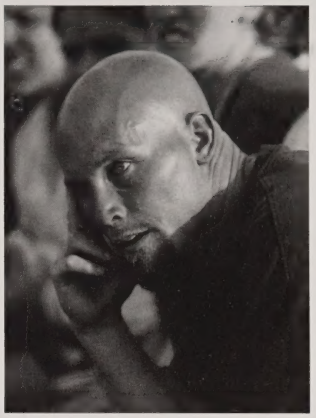
Coach Staci Skipper



As the ball descends, Barbara Besal leaps to catch it. Barbara intercepted the ball and stole the play from the Wildcats.

As senior members of the team, Kristin Kenney, Kim Ferrari, Meghan Byrne, Leigh Levitt, Barbara Besal, Brittany Doyle and Emily Ackerman show their excitement with an enthusiastic pose. All but two of the girls had been on the team together since their sophomore year.





While the game progresses, Assistant Coach Mike McFarland focuses on the play. He was contemplating the next strategic move.

Squeezing out the Great Bridge Wildcat, Aynsley Birkner takes control of the ball. Aynley was selected as one of the Most Improved Players for the season.

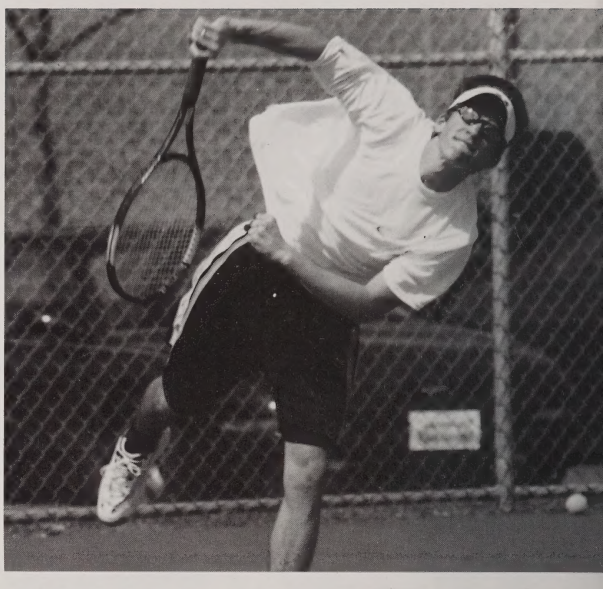
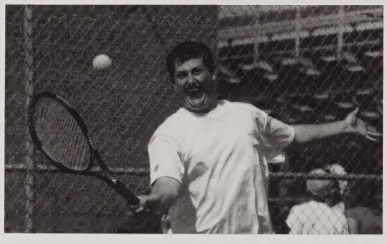
Rackin' It Up

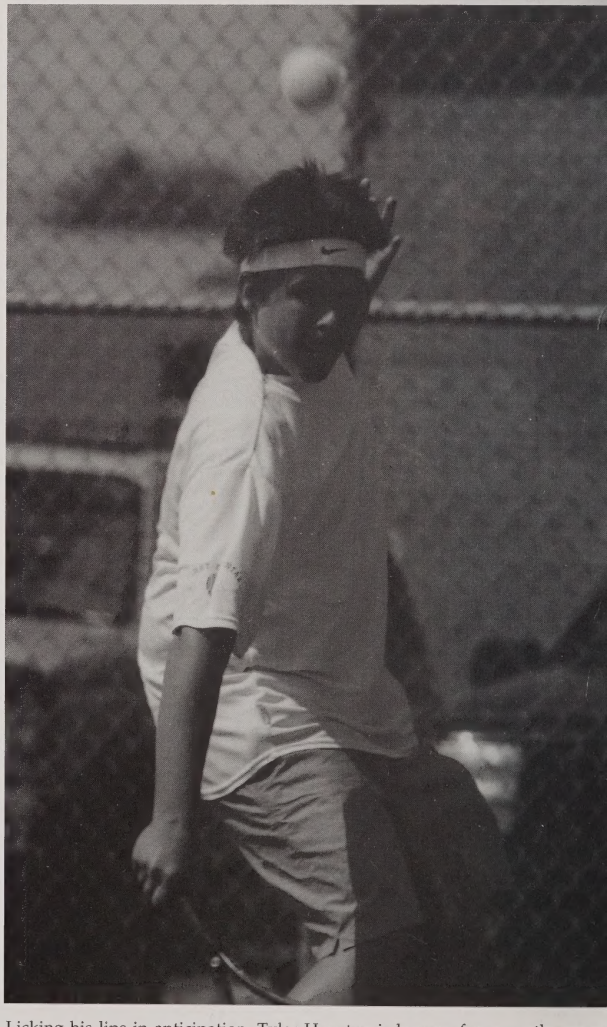
The boys' tennis team began the season with hope to do well and please their coach and fans. The team was able to bond during Ropes Incentive, a four hour workshop to work on tennis moves. Three seniors were able to keep their spirits high at each match by coming up with a word of the day. The boys' tennis team was always able to kep their spirits up. Senior Jon Antle was given the Sportsmanship Award for his good attitude.

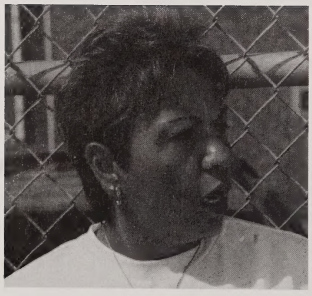
The tennis team worked very hard throughout the season. the most intense and challenging games were against Kellam and Kempsville. The most memorable moment was when Kellam was down to the wire, yet Kellam won. Senior Brian Rabchuck played well during6 the season and was awarded the title of MVP. Nick Jalbert, a sophomore, was the most improved player. At the end of the season, the boys realized that they worked hard.



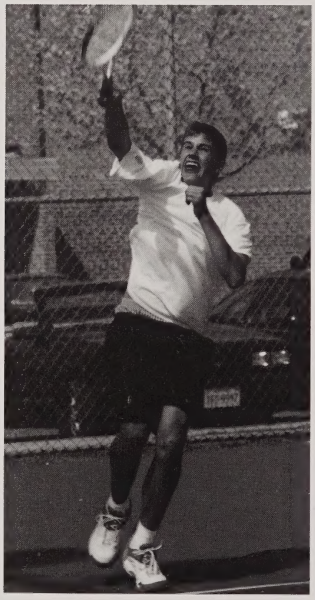


Knowing that the ball is on the racket, Justin Throckmorten is ready to meet it with great force. Justin's long reach allowed him to return serves that most others found difficult.





Coach Diane Deaton



With an explosive first server, Randy Bowden scores one for First Colonial. His extra reach helped him to hit those hard-to-get balls.

Licking his lips in anticipation, Tyler Houston is hungry for a worthy oppo Other teams were no match for Tyler's dangerous volleys.

aking sure he follows through, Brian bchuk fires the ball across the net. Being aggressive ball-striker, Brian was a g asset to the team.

Frustration sets in as Matt Simeone realizes that bad calls are just a part of the game. Matt shook it off and played some of his best tennis. He is a real sport.

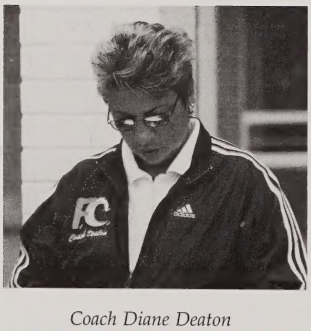
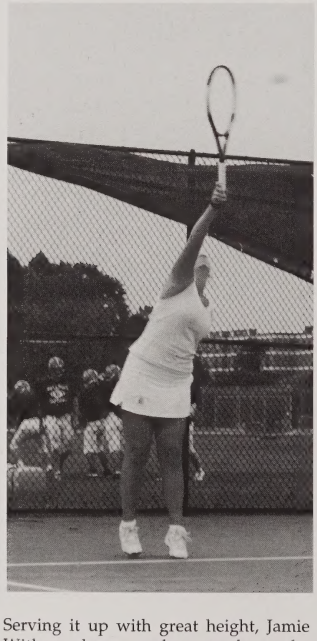
Sewing it Up

Daily practices coupled with team unity were major parts of the success for the Girls' Tennis team. Instead of focusing only on the individual performer, the girls concentrated more on making the team unified. Before every game, Co-captains Emily Routten, Laurie Morgan, and Jody Cooper gave a strategy that the team would keep in mind going into their matches. The most memorable moment of the season was the 6-3 win over Cox. The girls were fully prepared for this match, pumping themselves up with crazy music and full team support. Coming back from many injuries, Jody Cooper proved herself to be a great asset to the team, and was selected as the Most Valuable Player. Coming in at number two, Lauren Antle greatly improved throughout the season and earned the Most Improved Player status. The undefeated district season was achieved because of the team's excellent unity and athletic ability. Their lucky rings and dancing time made it easier to serve it up to the opposition!

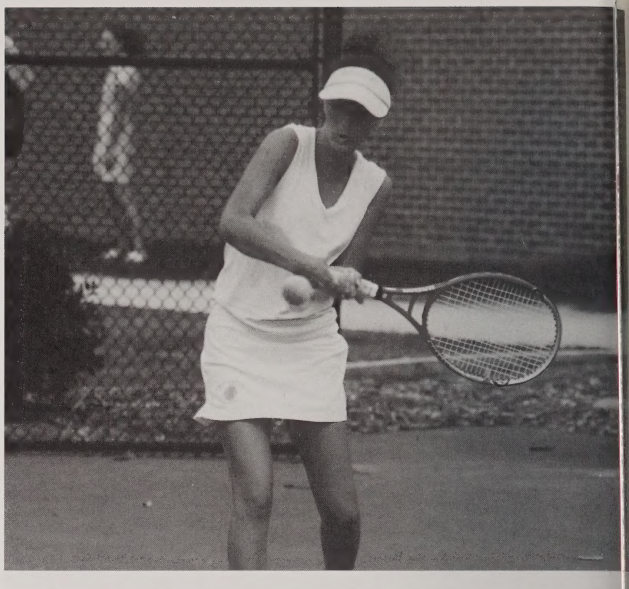
Huddling together for a team shout out, the girls gather up all their energy for the ritual. This was executed before every match in order to psyche themselves up and put the opposition off guard.

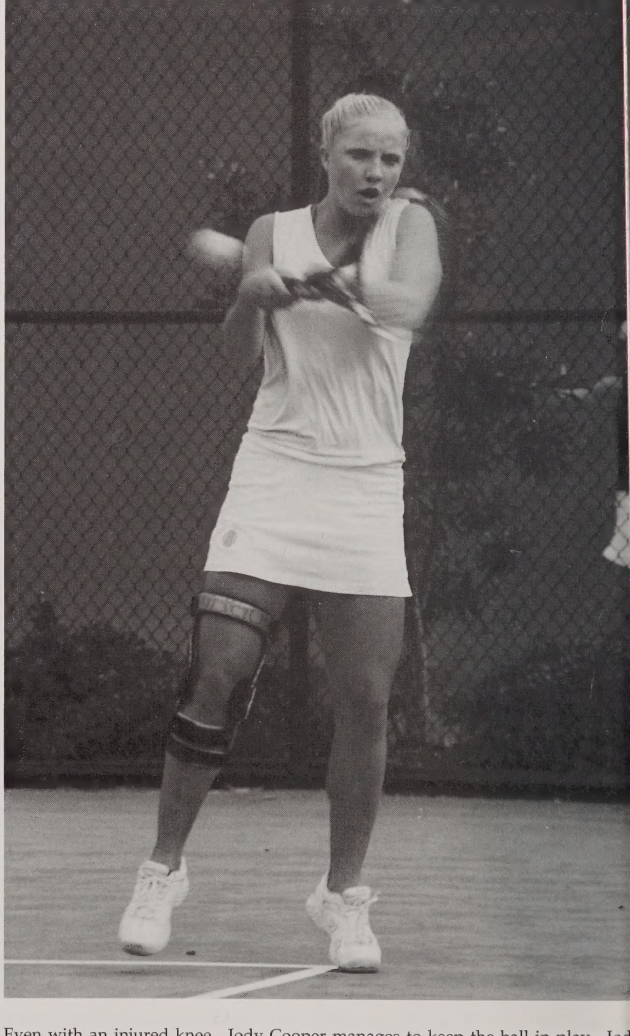


Coach Diane Deaton



Serving it up with great height, Jamie Withers slams another ace down the middle. Jamie's high record of aces made the matches go quickly.

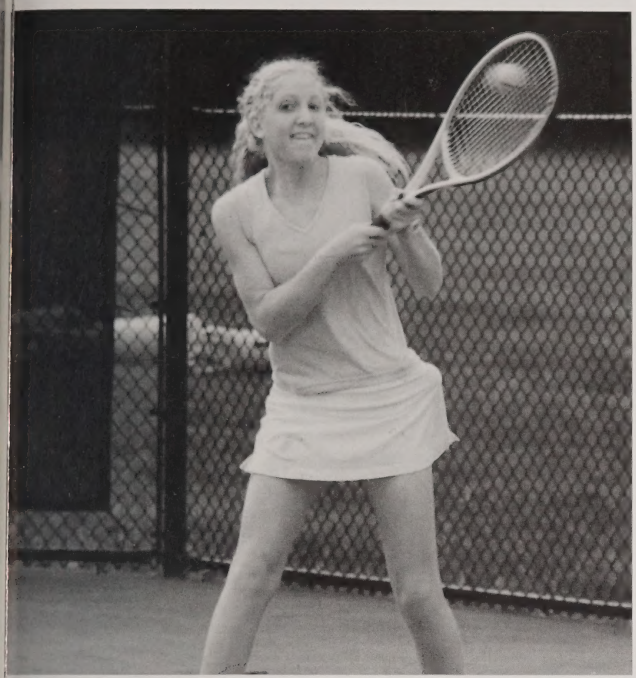


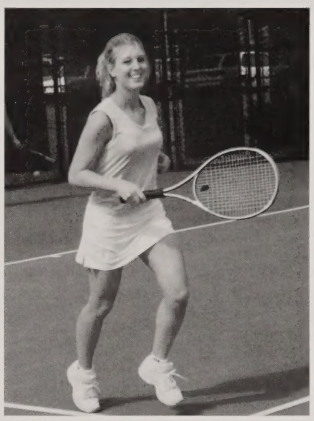


Even with an injured knee, Jody Cooper manages to keep the ball in play. Jod showed great concentration and was able to make another outstanding shot.

eparing to strike with a forceful back-nd, Emily Routten quickly steps in to eet the ball. Emily's down-the-line ckhand gave her a strong advantage in e match against Salem.

Quickly hitting the ball for the return, Mindy Tabakin stays focused on her match. Her backboard ability earned her the number one position.





Staying on her toes, Laurie Morgan jogs back to the baseline to finish the rest of her doubles match. Her agility and quick feet movement made her a very consistent and tough player.

Anticipating her next volley, Lauren Antle prepares to place it right across court. Her upbeat attitude and positive vibe kept the team motivated.

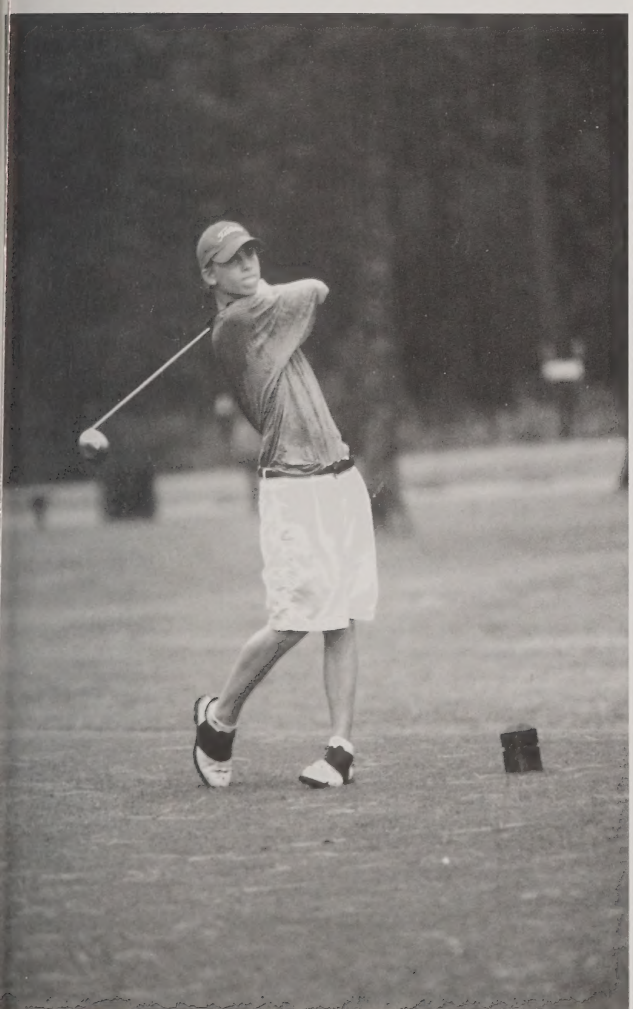
Eyeing the Ball

Keeping their eye on the ball, the Golf team ended with an 11-1 record for the season. They took first place at the Bow Creek Invitational, and at the Newport News Invitational, they took home the second place trophy. Three schools tied in the Beach District Tournament: Cox, Kellam and First Colonial. Coach Leo Anthony remarked, " Our most memorable game of the regular season was when we beat Cox by one shot." Selected as the Most Valuable Player was Nelson Adcock and Most Improved Player was Tanner Manley. Shane Kozuch received the Coach's Award as best all around player. Selected for the All-District second team were Shane Kozuch and Nelson Adcock while Stephen Berlucchi,and Tanner Manley received All-District Honorable Mention. Coach Anthony anticipates that the four returning players will give the competition a run for their money.



iring off an accurate drive down the fairway, Rob Gordon beats out the competition. His long precise drives put him in the lead in the Beach Districts.

With umbrellas in hand, Drew Hurst and Rob Gordon congratulate each other on their successful plays. Drew and Rob knew encouragement was important to verbalize to the other team members.

Putting his way to victory, Shane Kozuch easily sinks the ball. He was able to come back for matchs after enduring an injury that kept him away from the game for some time.

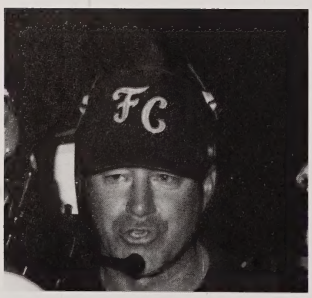
Holding Them Over

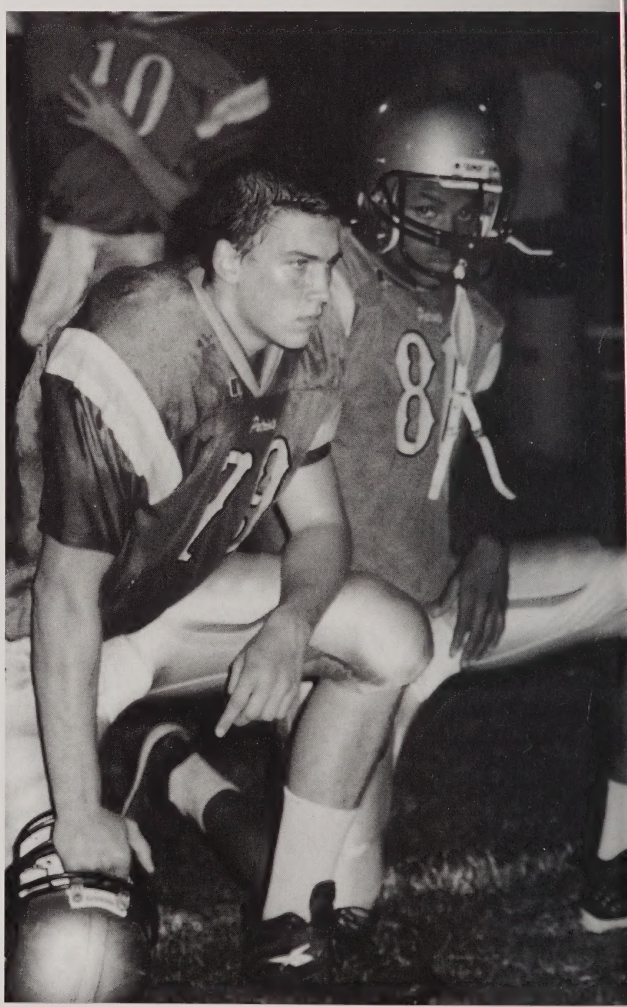
Holding their own, the Varsity Football team was seen out on the field every afternoon re-running their plays. They got off to a rocky start in the beginning, but the boys proved they could be a tough competitor. With their amazing ability to stay strong and never give up, the boys gave a demonstration during the Kellam game wherein the Patriots scored eight points in the last two seconds for the win!. The key starters, Antonio Roulhac, Khalif Mitchell, Najeeb Hamilton, Anthony Checchio, Adam Asuega, Kevin Brown, and David Riddick, always kept the games entertaining by their show of skill and agility. All of the seniors were selected to receive the award for Most Valuable Player as they all showed great effort and leadership throughout the season. Through all their hard times, the guys never gave up, they maintained positive attitudes for every play they executed.

Taking out the other team, Drew Shortt and Kevin Brown charge forward. Drew and Kevin were defensive players who were very aggressive and not afraid of anyone.always.



Coach Sam Scarborough

As he forcefully strikes the ball, Jeff Pfeiffer places another point on the scoreboard against Cox. Jeff's powerful and consistent kicks managed to gain much needed points during the Homecoming game.



Watching very intently, Matt Parent and Vernon Gay zero in on prominent oppos tion players to study their methods. Matt and Vernon were determined to analy the opposing team's plays.

eaking past the defense, Antonio oulhac heads for the end zone. Antonio ed his skillful footwork to keep every- he guessing which way he would go.

Holding the line, the Patriot defense keeps the Falcons from making a first down. The powerful defensive line proved that the Patriots would not give up easily.

Going in for the tackle, Wallace Petty stops yet another player from making a touchdown. Wallace's strong aggressiveness made it impossible for the opposition to get past him.

Leading the team in the pre-game prayer, Assistant Coach Leslie Benjamin asks for strength, wisdom and guidness. This time of reflection enabled the team to gather their thoughts and prepare themselves for the upcoming event.

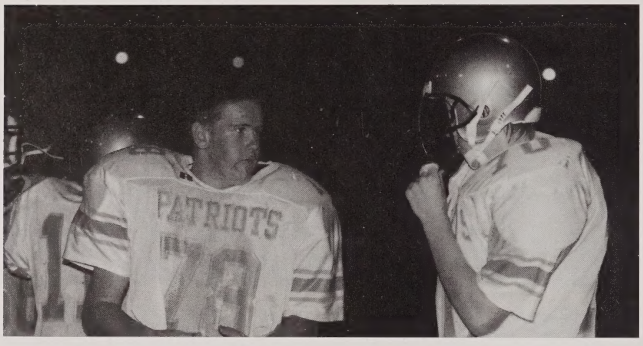
Executing the Plays

JV Football

As the J.V. Football team ended their season with a 0-6 record, the sounds of their battle cry could still be heard. They would have prayer before each game and then cry out, "We are ready!", which helped them get pumped up for the opposition. Coach Leslie Benjamin recalled, "We were very young and inexperienced. This was a rebuilding year, but next year the other teams' had better watch out." Selected as the Most Valuable Player was Tim Jones. Three members selected as Most Improved Players were Mitchell Judge, Kevin Hunt, and Chris Lyle. Within the team was a strong and competitive defensive line which helped to keep the pressure on the opposition. The most exciting game was against the Salem Sun Devils where the boys held them at bay, and only lost by six points. Coach Benjamin commented, "Next year is going to be a great year!"

Setting up for the pass, quarterback Brandon Cruz is ready to deliver a rocket into hands of the receiver. Brandon's passing skills helped keep the team in play.



Discussing plays and strategies, John Horne and Kevin Hunt are ready to get back in the game. John and Kevin were both first year sophomore team members.

Leaping over a defensive player, Ray Hollingsworth is one step closer to the goal line. Ray, a running back, gained a lot of yardage throughout the season.

Sweeping for the Goal

JV Field Hockey

Winding up their season with an 8-11 record, the J.V. Field Hockey team remembered their most intense and exciting game as being against Kellam where they beat the Lady Knights 1-0. But one of the most challenging games occurred when they beat the Salem Sun Devils by three points. Four girls who played key starter positions were: Amanda Windt, Jackie Green, Kendall Jackson, and Laura Kupke. Sarah Kern was selected as the Most Improved Player due to her dedication and desire to improve herself. Selected as the Most Valuable Player was Kendall Jackson who demonstrated leadership qualities and a very positive attitude. Coach Susan Callahan stated, "The team had an unexplainable bond which enabled them to grow stronger and become closer." With such an inexperienced and young team, the opponents found a very capable group of girls to battle.

Making a steal from the opponent, Becky Squibb takes possession and runs. Becky's determination and skill to retrieve the ball made her an aggressive adversary.

Helping to defend the goal, Sarah Kern manages to keep the Lady Knights from scoring. Sarah eventually retrieved the ball and moved it downfield.

All on Fire

As a very young and inexperienced group of players, the Girls' Varsity Field Hockey team ended their season with a 7-5 record reaching their goal of making it to the tournament. The sweet taste of victory came when they beat Kempsville in double over time by one point, especially since they lost the first game to them. Under the guidance of Coach Susan Callahan, the girls grew to respect each other and learned how to work together. The consistent support from the parents who came to all of their games helped to keep their spirits high. Key players were Andrea Frittelli, Erin Spadaro, Andrea Aikin, and Liz Hiltz. Selected as the Most Valuable Player was Andrea Frittelli and the Most Improved Player was freshman, Maura Checcio. The Kempsville and Cox games turned out to have been the most intense and exciting games of the season.

Coming together during a timeout, the girls listen intently to some encouraging words from Coach Callahan. Cooperation and team work were evident in every game.

Charging for the ball, Holly Henry pushes her opponent away to gain control. Holly's strength was an asset that caused the opposition to keep an eye on her.

Coach Susan Callahan

tretching to gain control, Elizabeth Hiltz looks for the breakaway. Liz was able to ecure the ball and pass it on for a goal against the Salem Sun Devils.

Bump, Set, Spike

Making the District Tournament for the first time in three years, the Boys' Volleyball season proved to be an exciting one. The boys had been working hard as they improved their record for the third year in a row. Matt Horan commented, "It was an awesome feeling to make it to District." Playing admirably throughout the tournament, the guys finished fifth in the district. Their most exciting game of the season was beating Landstown by one point. According to Coach Gary Hodges, freshman Jesse St. Clair was the team's good luck charm. Winfield Whittington, freshman, was the Most Improved Player on the team. Key players were Jason Champion junior, Ryan Arcese , sophomore, Mike Davis ,senior, Blake Kersey, junior, and Ryan McQueeney, junior. "It was a great season, we all played our best-and it took us pretty far", said Ryan Arcese. Comments junior Matt Horan, Fighting over refreshments, the boys' vollyball team members guzzle water and Gatorade. They knew it was very important to stay hydrated throughout the game.

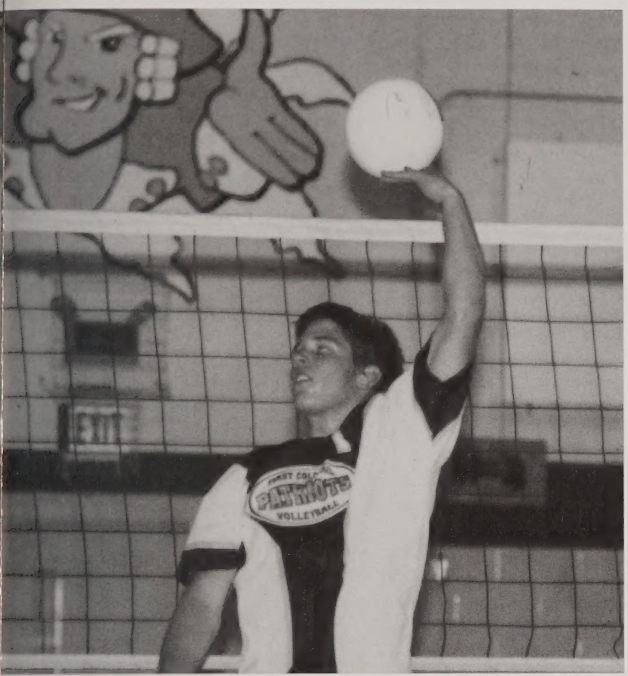
Coach Gary Hodges

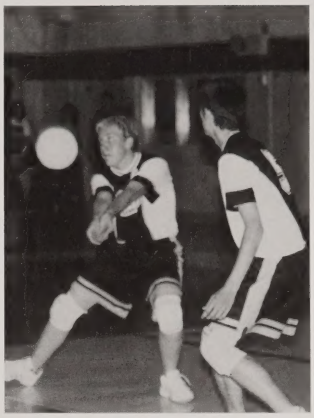
Reaching to the sky, Mike Davis keeps his eye on the ball. Mike's quick response made for a decisive return against Landstown.

Giving a handshake, Coach Gary Hodges congratulates Blake Kersey for his late play. Coach Hodges was always quick to reward his players with an acknowledgment of their efforts.

tting the floor, Jason Champion demstrates how to take a fall with a grin. on was the team's MVP who proved could stay focused throughout the ason.

Aiming high, Ryan Arcese spikes the ball back over the net hoping to surprise the Green Run Stallions. Ryan was very adept at spiking and catching the opposition off guard.





With full concentration, Blake Kersey bumps the ball quickly to a teammate. Blake knew how to set up the ball and keep the opposition guessing as to how it would get played.

Looking pleased, the guys huddle together after their win over Bayside. They would congratulate themselves and then show good sportsmanship by "high fiving" the other team.

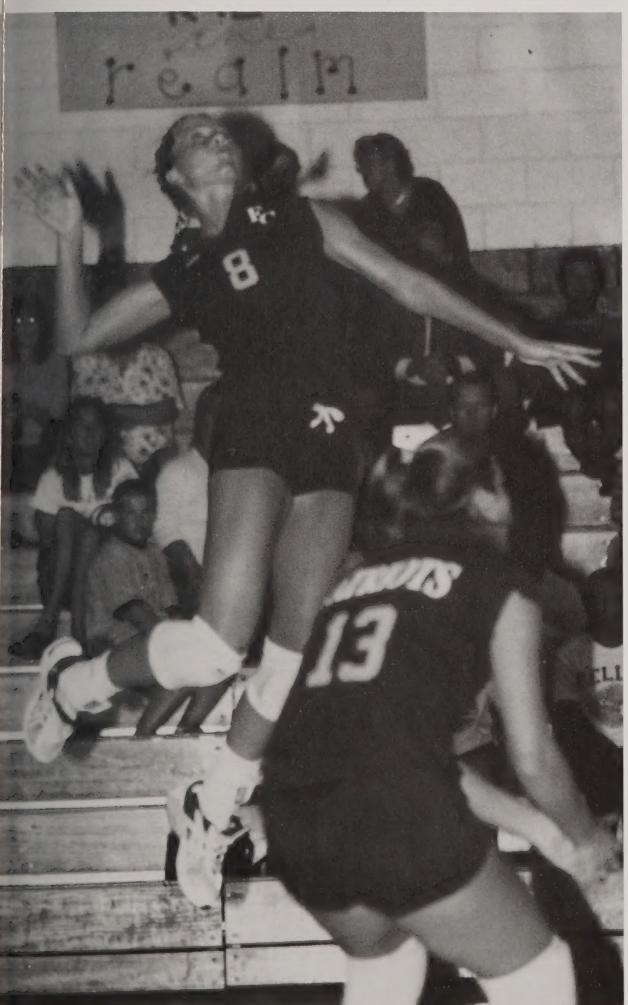
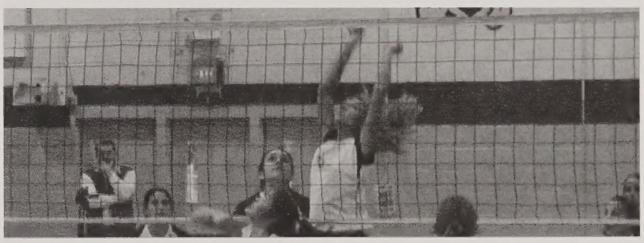
Spiking the Season

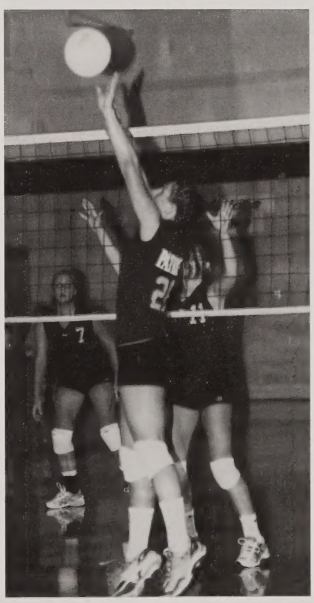
After capturing the State Girls' Volleyball Championship for the second time in three years, the Patriot Ladies were more than estatic. Kim Chaplain remarked, "We went a lot further than anyone expected us to." With seven outstanding senior players, the starting squad was comprised of members who had played together since eighth grade at Lynnhaven Middle. Coach Edie Magula commented, "The difference between this year's title and the one in 2000 was the fact that seven seniors worked very hard to get there." Selected as the team's Most Valuable Player was Maegan Weisert, and recognized as the Most Improved Player was Myra Marshall. Early on in the season the team suffered a loss to Kellam, but their strength came from being able to recover from that experience. As Mollee Farrell so aptly stated, "It was a good way to end for the seniors. You want to end on a winning note."



pringing with all her might, Maegan Weisert takes careful aim and prepares to ound the ball far across the court. Maegan's powerful punch caused the Kellam Lady nights to get flustered and miss the return.



Soaring up at the net, Marie Marshall reaches to spike the ball to the other side. Marie was able to keep the Kellam Lady Knights from scoring.



Reaching to set the ball, Kim Chaplain taps it to her teammate. Her quick reaction and great teamwork scored a point against Tallwood.

Running the Course

Boys' Cross Country

To develop stamina and endurance, the Boys' Cross Country team dedicated themselves to a daily routine of running, stretching, and conditioning. Some of the runners were determined to stay in condition year round by participating in a different sport each season and by lifting weights at school in the early afternoons. Every day for a bout two hours, the boys could be seen running down Great Neck Road from the school over to Sea Shore State Park or at Mount Trashmore I. Many of the 5K races were held at the Sportsplex located near the Princess Anne Recreational Park located just off of Princess Anne Road. Their main emphasis was to develop endurance for the long runs, but they also wanted to develop strength for speed in the sprinting events.

Pushing for the win, Derek Salter and Will Hall grasp their last bit of energy to fi h the race. Derek and Will were determined to become victors in the 5K event.

Running at Mount Trashmore I, the boys' long distance team keep up the momentum. The boys had to run a course up and over the mountain and around it.

Pacing himself, Mark Emborski over takes the Tallwood opponent. Mark's ability to know when to push himself along with his endurance served him well.

Staying the Course

Girls' Cross Country

Beginning in August, several of the Girls' Cross Country team members met for daily runs in the afternoons. They could be seen in the Little Neck area or along Great Neck Road to Sea Shore State Park running from neighborhood to neighborhood for about an hour or an hour and a half. These girls felt it was important to begin conditioning before school was in session in order to get an early start on the season. They also worked to condition themselves for the long distance runs and the sprinting events. Some of the girls even participated in a sport each season to stay in good physical condition year round. The team competed against other schools at the Sportsplex or the park area at Mount Trashmore I. Selected as the Most Valuable Player was Ashley Ezell and the Most Improved Player was Lauren Padgett. The most challenging event was racing at districts.

p'ing herself, Kendra Silkey gives it 110 % down the home stretch of the 5k run. Having developed her endurance level early in the season, helped Kendra remain competitive.

Anxiously running for success, Ashley Ezell takes control of the race. Ashley was selected as the Most Valuable Player.

Keeping together, Robin Small and Leanna Striker lead their team off the starting line. The sound of the gun was a shot of adrenalin for the racers who began the 5k run at the Sportsplex.

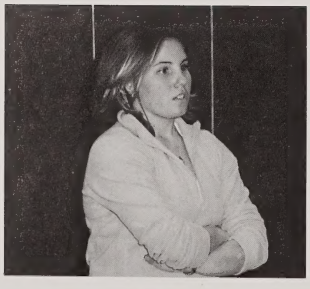
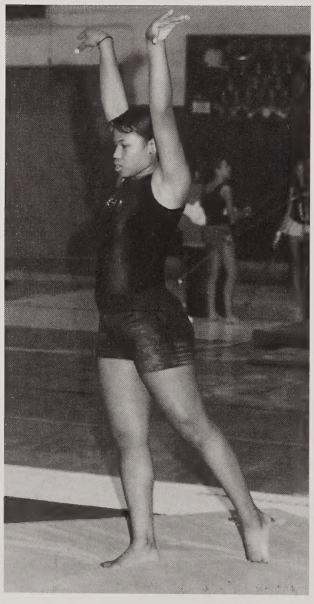
Stretched Out

Surpassing last season's total wins, the Gymnastics team was off to a great beginning. The girls were excited to have a new coach who brought fifteen years of gymnastics experience, of which five years were spent competing with the International Elite Gymnastics team. Very early in the season, the girls learned Coach Katie McFarland's philosophy, "I believe that the key ingredient to success is discipline first; and therefore I will require an acceptable excuse for any tardiness or absence from a practice." Fourteen year old Kara Wright was selected as the team's Most Valuable Player as she had attained a level ten. The girls' enthusiasm and dedication were encouraged by the team leadership of Morgan Sieg, Brittany Schaefer, Maura Checcio and Kara Wright.

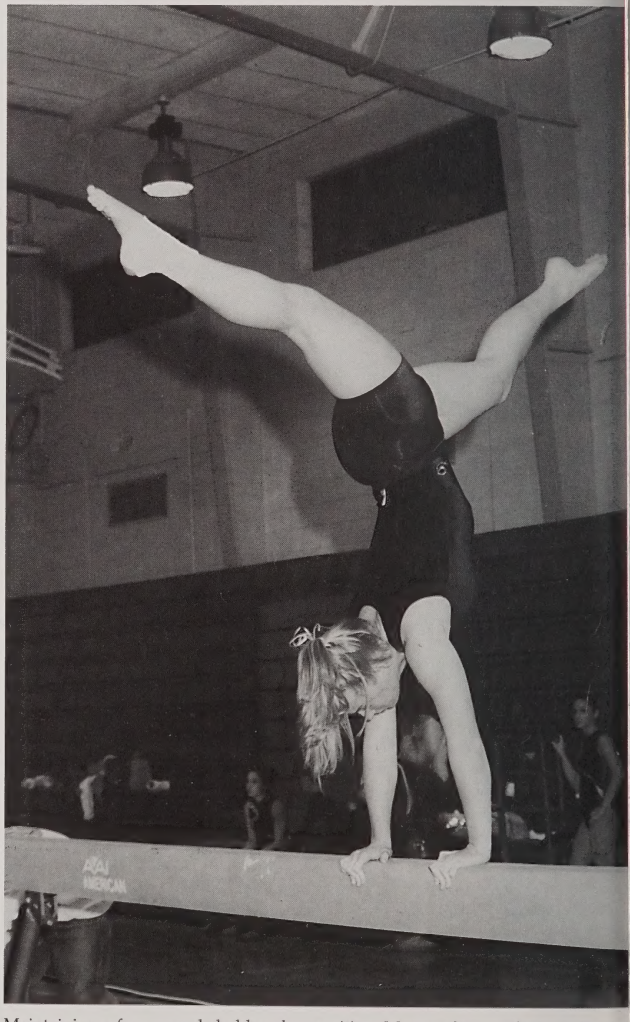
Executing a successful dismount, Brittany Schaefer completes her routine. Brittany was captain of the gymnastics team and had been on the team since she was a freshman.



Coach Katie McFarland



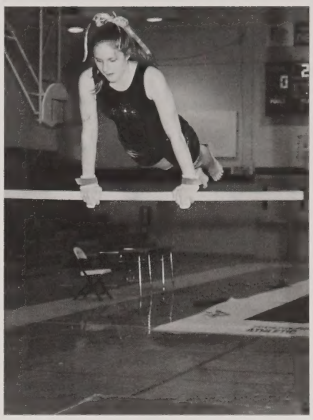
Practicing her floor routine, Mallory Mobley demonstrates her beginning stance. Mallory was dedicated to perfecting her form in every meet.



Maintaining a few seconds hold on her position, Morgan Sieg performs a flawless handstand. Morgan's strength and endurance allowed her to succeed in competitions throughout the year.

ng a running leap, Morgan Sieg nts the beam to begin her routine. As ior, Morgan acted as a role model for younger gymnasts.

Performing a back-handspring, Maura Checchio successfully meets the beam. Maura kept the crowd excited with her difficult moves.



Holding tightly to the bar, Jennifer James concentrates on making the turn. Jennifer was one of the key gymnasts on the team who displayed an aggressive attitude.

Watching for the final score, Morgan Sieg , Maura Checcio, and Brittany Schaefer are excited to see the results. The three girls were anxious to discover who placed first in the floor routine.

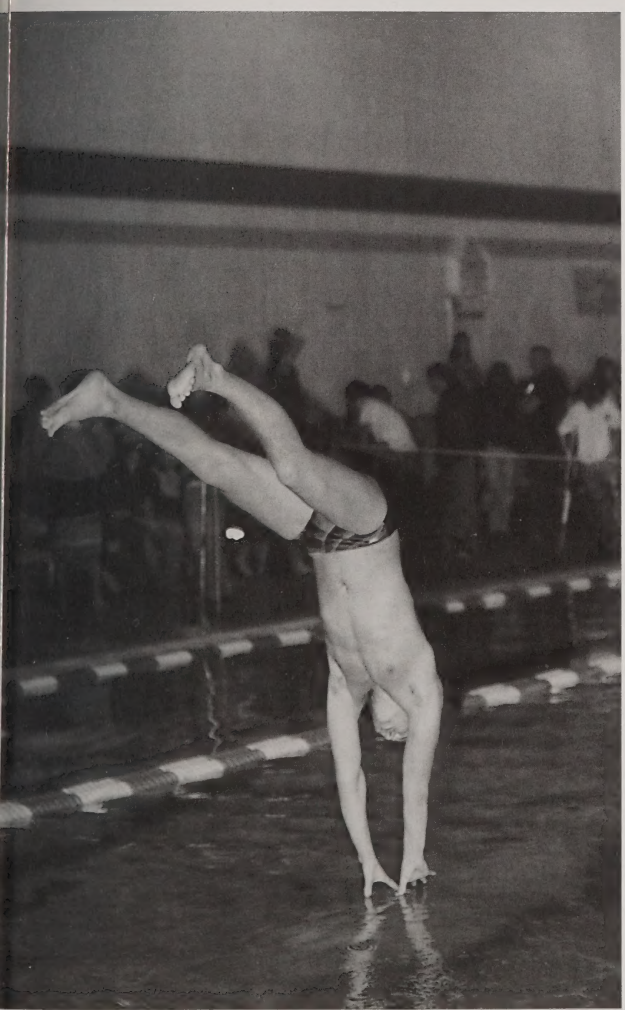
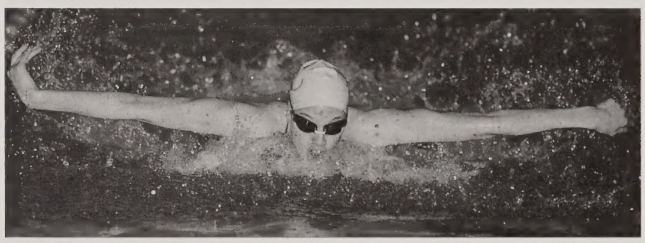
Beat the Heat

The Swim team beat the heat by ending with an undefeated record. Coached by Kim Mc Canna, the boys relied on strong relays and key swimmers such as Ryan Moore, Nick Cruit, Dimitri Boubas. Selected as Most Valuable Player was Hunter Mewbourne, and Most Improved Player was Mike Spence. The team was inspired by team cheers, pasta parties, and Coach Suzanne Flach's willingness to get in and practice with the team upon losing a bet to Gwaltney Wright. Girl swimmers, Renee Schreiber, Jordan Mc Horney, Abby Barney, and MVP Stephanie Jones broke the national 200 free stroke relay record. Coached by Suzanne Flach, the girls were led by many strong seniors along with Haley Sullivan, who was voted as the Most Improved. Though the two teams made a strong showing wherever they went, their greatest talent was found in their newly discovered ability to climb out of the pool using only their feet.



ppearing to perform a handstand, Jake Kepka dives into the water. Jake's skills a diver greatly improved throughout the season.



Charging the wall, Stephanie Jones takes another flawless butterfly stroke. Stephanie was a powerful swimmer who excelled in the butterfly and freestyle events.

Displaying her team spirit, Christie Herman gives the "Cox" pinata a good beating. The weekly pasta parties helped to fuel team spirit.

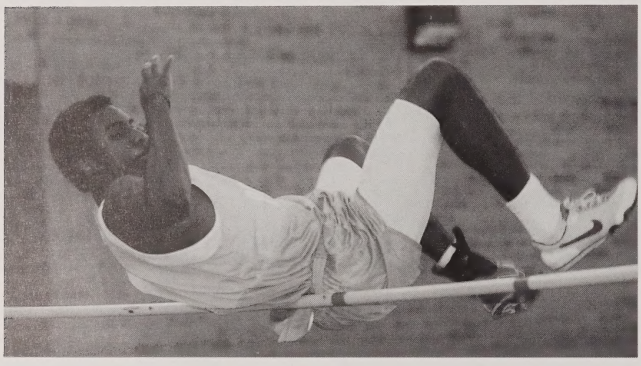
Back On Track

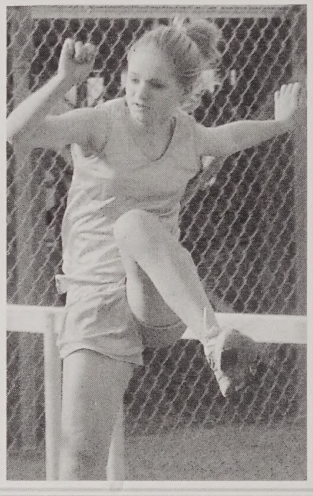
Indoor Track

The Indoor Track team experienced a season like none other. The boys placed fourth out of eleven in the district meet, and the girls placed ninth. Most Valuable Players included Khalif Mitchel for field events, and Kyle Naughton for running events, and Anna Kern was selected as the Best Newcomer. While Antonio Roulhac and Ashley Ezell continually won top points at every meet, new records were set by Khalif Mitchel at the Christopher Newport University Invitational and the Regional Meet. School records were set by Najeeb Hamilton for the 300 meters, and Antonio Roulhac, Vernon Gay, Wallace Petty, and Najeeb Hamilton for the 800 meter relay. Khalif Mitchel threw his way to the national meet, where he placed eighth in shot put. Ashley Ezell finished her senior year with state titles for cross country, indoor track, and outdoor track for all four years of high school. Coach Ja'Ton Hines commented, "The team was especially strong in the distance events as well as the boys' sprints."

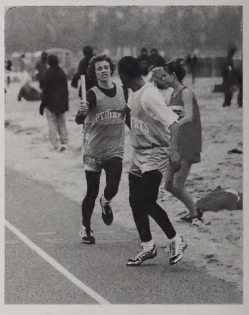
Gaining height in long jump, An Windt stretches to go past the Amanda cor trated on gettin much distance a possibly could.



Trying to jump one more position higher, Najeeb Hamilton easily leaps over the bar. Najeeb was determined to set a new record.



Making sure she clears the hurdle, Alison Mayo runs her race with ease. Even though this event was difficult, Allison never had a problem with it.



Passing the baton with ease, Mike Barnett and Jesse St.Clair help to bring the team one step closer to a victory. The relay events required not only speed but a coordinated effort in the hand off.

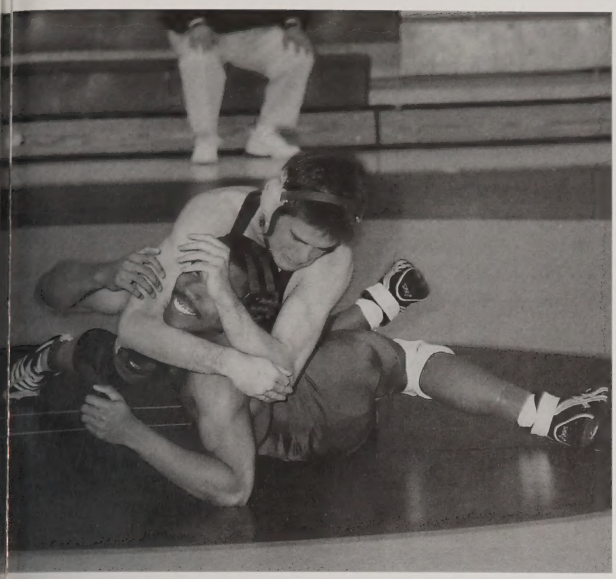
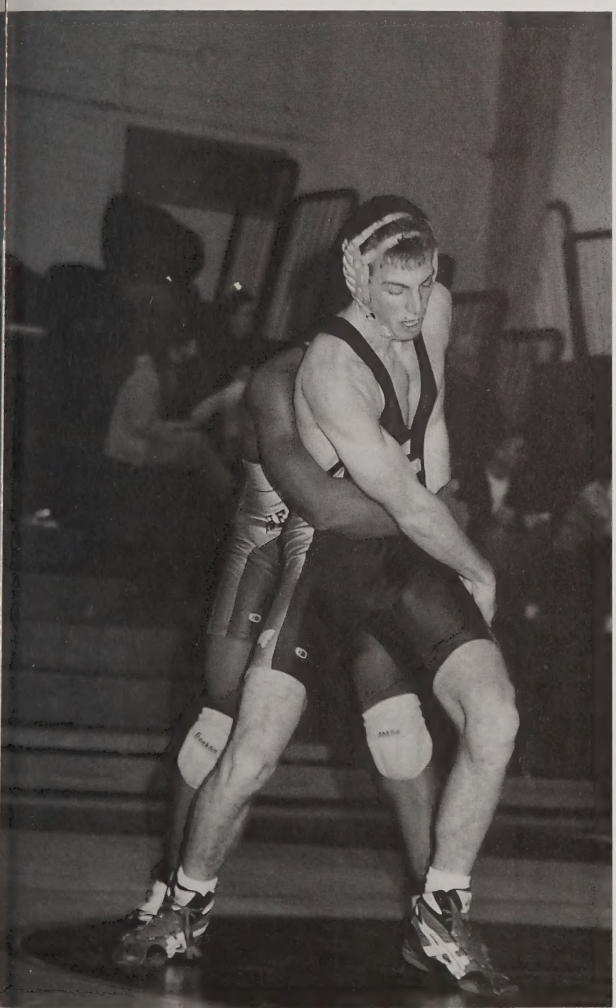
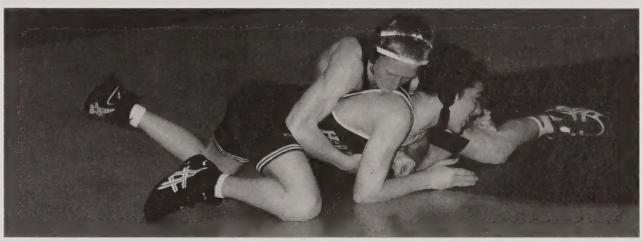
Ending with a 7-16 season, the Varsity Wrestling team maintained high spirits in their rebuilding year. The team's leaders were Mark Barney and Ryan Manion who kept the enthusiasm alive during the meets and displayed discipline and leadership for the others. Voted as Most Improved Players were John Athey and David Christianson. The most memorable moment of the season was when they came from behind and scored a victory over Norview led by second stringer Gregor Goodman. The team was comprised of twenty middle weight members who worked diligently and never gave up. They were recognized as the toughest group of kids in the school. The team motto was "builds character, hurts like a mug". But the most intense and challenging match was against the overwhelming favorite, Tallwood, where they slid past by three points.

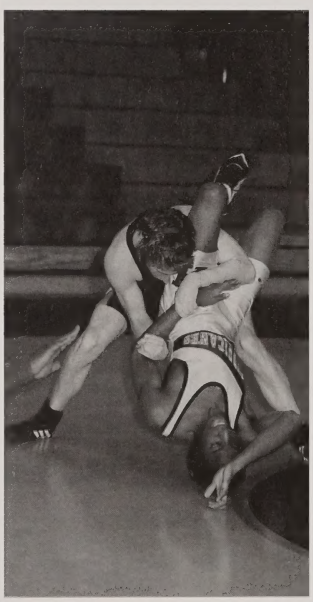




though the Kempsville Chief has a tight grip on him, Ryan Manion manages to ak free. Ryan's ability to quickly think and react allowed him to eventually rtake his opponent.



Making the Salem wrestler feel the pain, Keegan Van Auken uses his sheer power to dominate in the lightweight division. Keegan, a junior, was one of the main starters during the season.



Making a quick throw down, George Brown trips his Hickory Hurricane opponent. George was able to make the pin and win the match.

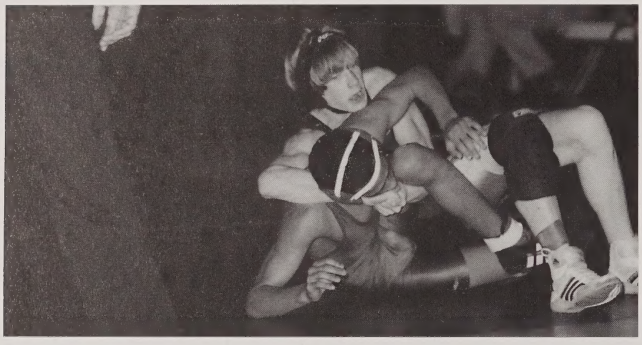
Holdin' the Cradle

JV Wrestling

The boys of the Junior Varsity Wrestling squad came out of the season breaking even with a record of 13 wins and 13 losses. Gregor Goodman, Todd Carlson, and Jimmy Mitchum also participated on the Varsity Wrestling team. All the team members were fierce competitors, using advanced styles and strengths to take down their opponents. Sophomore, George Brown played a key role on the team due to his strength and endurance. Coach Chris Runzo, who coached both the Varsity and JV Wrestling teams, was very proud of the Junior Varsity team's effort. "I am looking forward to next year's team. With the great team players we have now, the future years are looking good," responded Coach Runzo. To help build character and unity, the team members would yell, "Hurts like a mug" before every meet.

Plowing his foe to the mat, Sam Stephens takes him out. Sam weighted in at abo[ut] 9[0] pounds and 5'4 in height which placed him in the lightweight class of wrestler.



Holding the graple, Gregor Goodman maintains power over his opponent. Gregor's pre season conditioning paid off for him during the season.

Getting ready to make his next move, Krys Stultz, is able to take his opponent to ground zero. Krys showed his determination in every match and every victory.

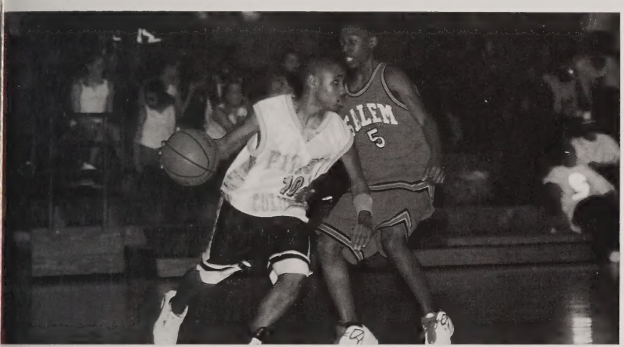
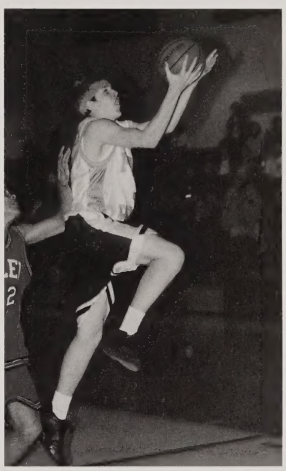
JV Boys' Basketball

The J.V. Boys' Basketball team experienced a tough season, but managed to keep it together. With their key players: Raheem Langford, Antwain Gay, Kelvin & Ray Hollingsworth, and Most Valuable Player Jimmy Domanski, the team had a tied season of 6 wins and 6 losses. The intensity of the season didn't keep the boys down for they kept their spirits high and their minds focused on the games they played. Their hard work paid off and they never let their egos get in the way of staying together throughout the season. The toughest games were with Princess Anne, Landstown, and Salem, The boys were a little rattled during those events, but they were able to hold their own on the court, and with the help of the coaches, they were always made to feel that every game was a major victory no matter what the outcome was.



oncentrating on keeping possession of the ball, freshman Dietrich Andrews races ast the Salem guard towards the basket. Dietrich proved to be an energetic player ho didn't allow the opposition to intimidate him.



Making the rebound, Jimmy Domanski grabs the ball and later moves it down the court. With his quick thinking and athletic ability, Jimmy, a sophomore, was on the starting line-up.

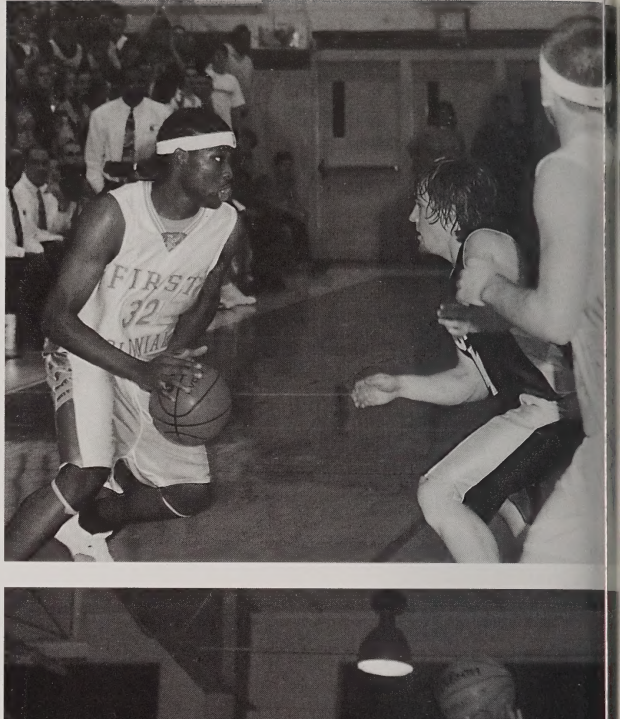
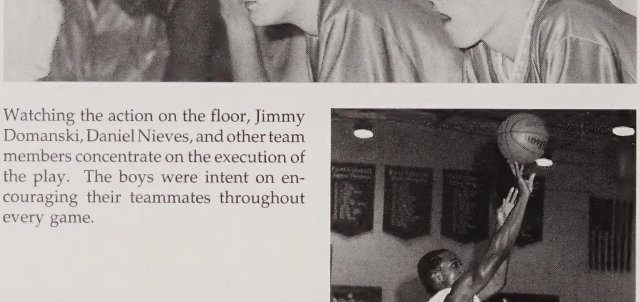
Hot Shots

The Boys' Varsity Basketball season concluded with an record of 18-7. During this highly successful season, the team beat Cox by a slim four points, thus preserving the long history of rivalry. "We had a great season, everyone had a lot of fun," says sophomore guard Ryan Arcese. The team motto of, "Play hard, and good things happen," encouraged the guys to work hard, do their best, and play well. Selected as the team's Most Valuable Player was junior Daryl Monroe. Senior Anthony Checchio remarked," The most memorable moment of the season was when Oavotstaraj Waddell, a senior, produced a steal and a spectacular dunk against Churchland". Summarizing the season, Coach Mark Butts said, "I think we should have won a few more games, but overall it was a very successful year. I think in the end you can say we came together as a team."





Watching the action on the floor, Jimmy Domanski, Daniel Nieves, and other team members concentrate on the execution of the play. The boys were intent on encouraging their teammates throughout every game.

Completing one of his two foul shots, Rico Sutton gracefully guides the ball into the hoop. Rico was careful to take his time and concentrate on his aim.

Coach Mark Butts

In a successful attempt to steal the ball, Qavotstaraj Waddell stretches tall and swc it out of the Falcon's reach. Qavotstaraj's 6'10"height not only gave him m advantages, but also made him the tallest player ever on the school's team.

ging his opponent, Darryl Monroe es to the left. After his quick maneue he was successful in scoring against Cox Falcons.

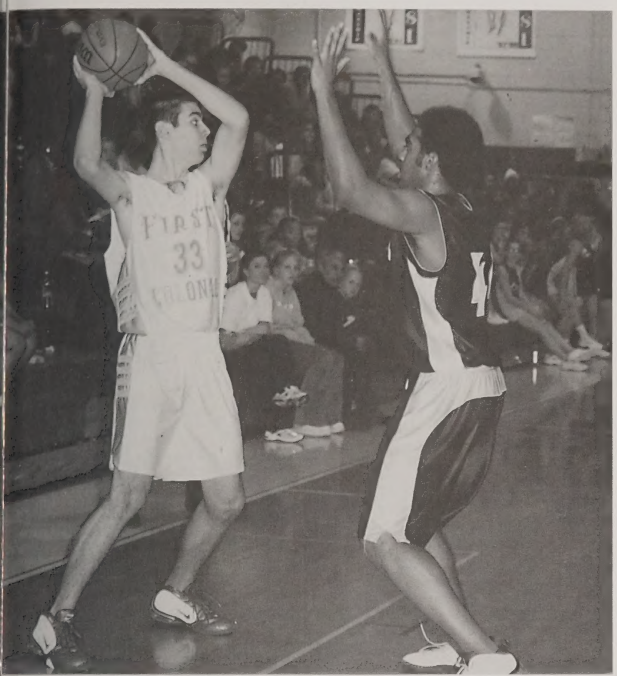
Attempting to get around the guard, Doug Stumborg looks for a teammate who's open. Doug carefully evaluated the situation before delivering the ball into play.



Moving the ball toward the hoop, Anthony Checchio calls the number of the next play set-up. Team members relied on the successful call of the next play to lead them to another score.

Before each game, the team is introduced to the crowd. Excitedly, the crowd roared as they made their way to the middle of the court.

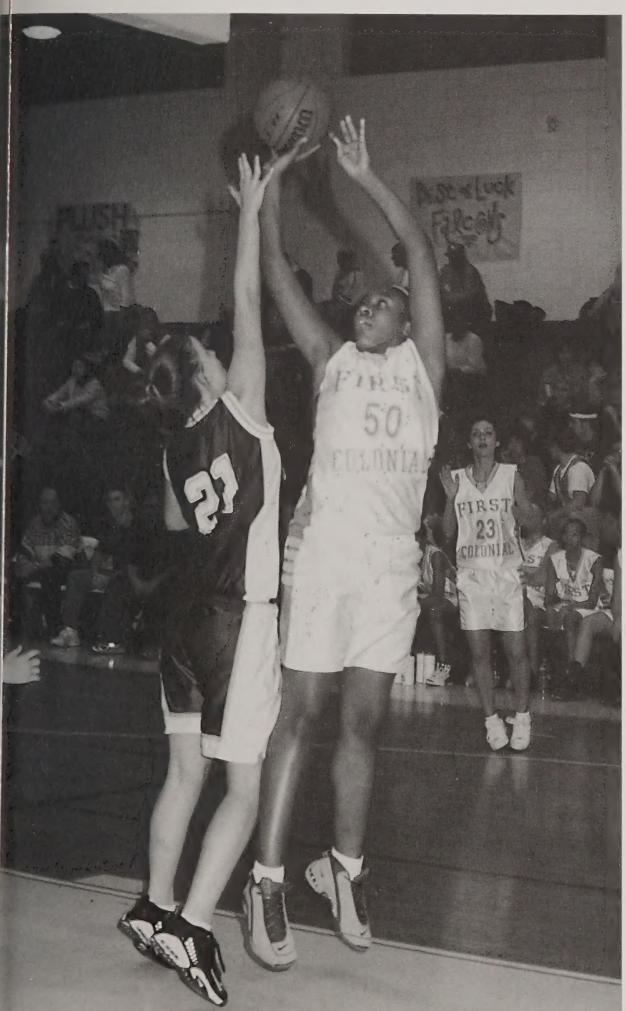
"1,2,3 TEAM!" was the chant heard before every game. The Varsity Girls' Basketball team proved that they could play amongst the best when they won the District Tournament for the season. Selected as the Most Valuable Player and Most Improved Player, was Courtney Seamon and Katie Ontko, respectively. Key starters included Kim Butts, Kitara McMoore, Taylor Watrous, Katie Ontko, Courtney Seamon, and Audra Dimascio. One of the most memorable moments of the year was the shattering of Princess Anne's 51 game winning streak. This later led to the girl's district tournament win. Even though that proved to be a challenge, their hardest match up was against Heritage in the Regional tournament. Playing their positions stongly, the team was most balanced at the guards and at the post. Working together proved to be one of the girls' most important factors for securing victory.



mping higher than her opponent, Brittany Monroe takes the shot. Jump shots were st one of Brittany's many strengths.

Concentrating on what the coach has to say, the basketball team gathers around to hear better. Coach Bowman could always be counted on to keep the girls focused.

Going for a lay-up, Kitara McMoore scores another two points. Kitara was consistently a big scorer for the team.

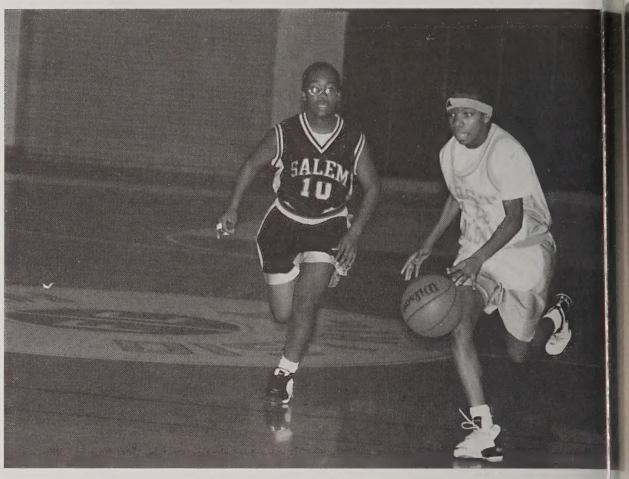
JV Girls' Basketball

Ending with a season record of 8-4, the J.V. Girls' Basketball team performed admirably. The girls entered each game with a great attitude and a willingness to win proclaiming their team cheer, "Hard work pays off". Selected as the Most Valuable Player was Rachel Wood while Vanessa Vaughn was voted the Most Improved Player. One of the most intense and challenging games was with Bayside where the JV Lady Patriots scooted past the Marlins winning by one point in overtime. But the most memorable moment of the season came when the girls defeated the Salem Sundevils by six points on the opposition's home court. Leading the team in scoring were freshmen members Rachel Wood, Vanessa Vaughn, and Kamara Jones. Additionally, Sara Foxwell, and Jessica Gilbert shared with them as the team's key players.

Dribbling past the Salemguard, Lauren Evans quickly heads the ball down urt Lauren's speed and endurance allowed her to get the ball into position for sco ng.



During half time, Coach Alan Jones and Assistant Coach Rodney Johnson encourage the girls. Their optimism and well thought out strategies helped lead the girls throughout the season.

Passing the ball to her team mate, Sara Foxwell prohibits any interception from the Salem defence. Sara was successful in making the pass off which secured the set up for the next play.

Spirit Check

JV Cheerleaders

The JV Cheerleaders team had a season full of fun and demonstrated their talent. Routines were full with different tumbling skills and advanced stunts thanks to Tiffany Patton. These stunts included "libs" and "prep twists." The execution of their stunts improved from the beginning of the season, which started with "fulls." The JV Cheerleaders were also given the opportunity to cheer third quarter at the Homecoming game. They were very excited about that, but it was also very challenging. During basketball season, the JV cheerleaders had to work hard to come up with halftime routines. The season wasn't only full of hard work, it was also full of fun. The cheerleaders, as friends, went out to dinner at Friendly's and Otani's, and had a sleepover. The Most Valuable Player was Brittany Jones and the Coach's Award was given to Jillian Turner.

Jumping high after the basketball team made the shot, Kelley Dao does a "herkie." As a freshman, Kelly's energy and high jumps helped develop her into a skilled cheerleader.

Leading her team in a cheer, Captain Brittany Jones shows her enthusiasm. Brittany's leadership led to a fun season for the cheerleaders.

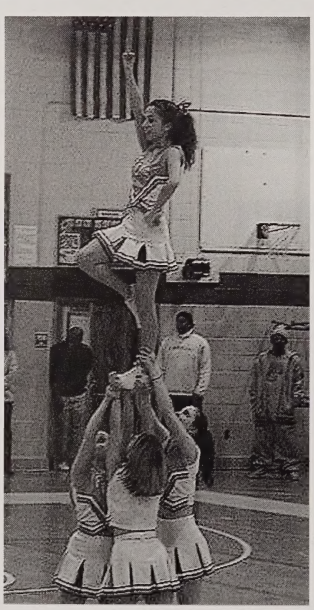
Spirit All Year

Promoting spirit throughout the year, the Varsity Cheerleaders had the responsibility of not only keeping each athletic team's spirit up, but also that of the spectators. The girls spent extra time after school starting in December working up their routine for the District Cheerleading Championship held in February at Tallwood High. With the loss of a few cheerleaders, Courtney Anderson, Brittany Jones, and Tiffany Patton were brought up from the JV Cheerleader team to fill the gaps and learn the routine. As the competition routine changed, many cheerleaders began to doubt how well they could do at the event, but Coach Amy Martin kept encouraging the girls until the very end, giving up much of her personal time to be with them. Selected as the Most Valuable Cheerleader was Megan Evans; the Most Improved Cheerleader was Amanda Greer; and selected as the Most Dedicated was Captain Alicia Boone. Megan Glaves received the Coach's Award.

Encouraging the crowd, Mallory Mobley, Britney Schaefer, and Jen James clap and cheer. During football games, the cheerleaders selected the best cheers that would help boost the football team's spirit.



In a "lib," Amanda Greer yells that the Patriots are number one. Christie Ropero, Megan Glaves, and Jen James demonstrated their strength and endurance by keeping Amanda in position during the cheer.

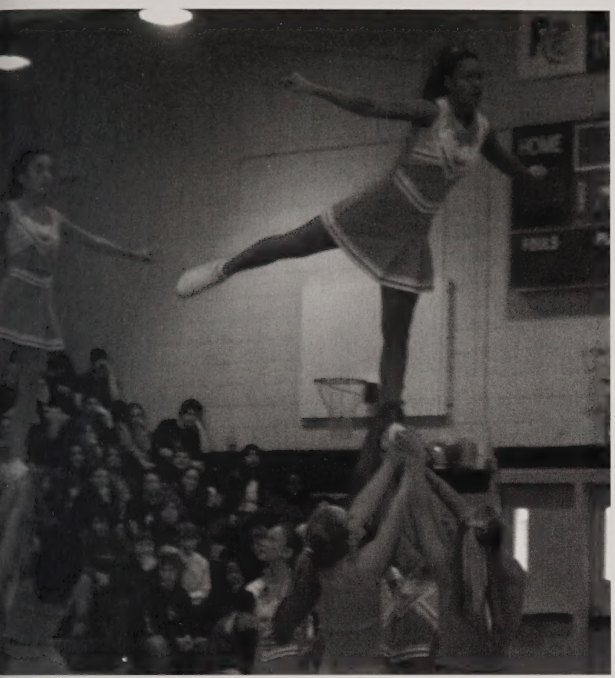
In "arabesques" formation, Amanda Greer and Sonia House help to entertain the corwds during the basketball pep rally. The cheerleaders used part of their competition routine during the pep rally to practice.



Showing her spirit during a football game, Cassie Knight encourages the crowd with a bright smile. As a freshman, Cassie's energy was infectious to the crowd and the other cheerleaders.

Displaying how well syncronized they are, the cheerleaders hit a "high V." It was important for the girls to be in complete unison while cheering.

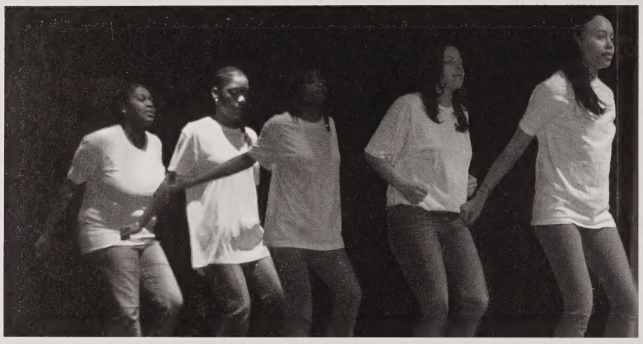
Steppin' Together

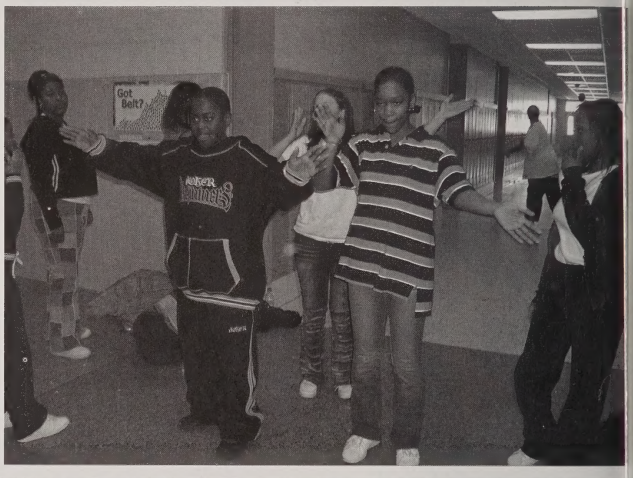
Step Team

The Step team was comprised of about 20 coed members who practiced mostly in the small gym with choreographer, Miss "Tiffany", a member of Norfolk State's Zeta Phi Beta. Throughout the year, the team performed at pep rallies, basketball game halftimes, and at the Black History Month assembly. They rehearsed four times a week after school for two hours learning new routines and as well as adding some of their own ideas. During the fall, they participated in two competitions at the Kempsville Recreation Center. These events were judged by a student from a Norfolk State fraternity, and D.J. "Herman Hercules" from 102.1. Jerrica Washington commented, " What I liked best about step team was making new friends and getting to know more people in school." New outfits were needed so members sold Valentine chocolate roses, lollipops, and hosted a competition at school in mid May organized by Paris Quarles and Denia Harris.

Mirroring Jerrica Washington, Amber Edmond and Francesca Harper enjoy working out some difficult moves. Practice time was essential to ensure coordinated moves in all their routines.



Performing at the Black History Month assembly, the Step Team completes their routine with energy. The Step Team was glad to be able to perform at such an assembly of great importance.



Leading an afternoon practice session, Renard Hodnet and Paris Quarles demonstrate some new steps. The team members learned from watching each other and sharing ideas.

forming at the fall pep rally, the Dance Team gets the Patriots excited about the coming game. Each year the Dance Team developed entertaining routines that pired the crowd .

With the Music

Dance Team

During the Neptune Festival Dance Competition in September, the Lady Patriots Dance team placed second. Then in November, the girls placed first in the Eastern Dance Association Competition held at Ocean Lakes High which gave them the opportunity to participate in the final competition in March. For both events, the girl's routine was comprised of a Michael Jackson mix titled, "Bad". They also performed to various other songs, including J-Lo's, "Play," and a Justin Timberlake and Missy Elliot mix. Throughout the year, the Dance team performed at pep rallies and during the halftimes at all of the home basketball games. The team had a lot of fun at daily practices learning new and entertaining moves, but they also had the ability to be friends as well as teammates making it a confident season. Captains Laura Whitney and Alison Dobson agreed that the team's strength was definitely their spirit.

Posing for the camera, the dance team is all smiles after just winning first place in the competition at Ocean Lakes. The nine girls donned hats with their costumes that mimicked Michael Jackson.

Syncronizing the opening slow movement, the girls concentrate on their timing. They always managed to get the crowd enthused and keep them entertained .

A Flash of Inspiration

The music of life was contained in the activities to which each person committed themselves. Part of having a purpose in life was to find areas of giving time and effort which benefited others-for it was in giving that we received and became better human beings. The act of sharing time and talents and being of service to others through club participation taught students how to live successfully with each other, and provided opportunities for developing leadership and knowledge.

In the Eyes of the World

The community consisted of schools, churches, businesses and social agencies that lent their support to the population. Young people going out into adulthood would later acknowledge their gratefulness for the guidance provided in their earlier years. Without the support of the community as a whole, the future would not be as bright for the young, the old, or the others yet to come into the eyes of the world.

1. Seen in the warm spring weather, Sentara Virginia Beach General Hospital stands as place of comfort, help and education. The hospital was only located about one mile from the school. 2. Completing some remodeling, the Church of the Holy Family on Great Neck Road provides a haven for peace and reflection. The church, about a half a mile away, was a place of solace for faculty and students. 3. One of the top scholastic schools in the district, First Colonial High School, celebrates its thirty-seventh year. The school has consistently been a pillar of high standards in the community. 4. Providing a place of resource and knowledge,the newly renovated Great Neck Library continues to be a large contributor to the community. The city libraries were located throughout town for the benefit of the population.

Dear Sister,

I enjoy having a sister like you, you are the sister that I never had. But seriously girl you are extremely kool and weird but thats okay. I don't know why we haven't hung out alot more than we have. When we hang out we always have alot of fun, so I guess that we will need to hang out alot more this summer. If ya don't call me during summer than I will cry.

Graduation is a time to remember and a time to dream,

a time to look back and a time to reach forward, a time for songs of laughter and a time for tears of joy,

a time for letting go and a time for discovering hopes and dreams that are yet unborn,

a time to say good-bye to yesterday and a time to greet tomorrow with courage,

a time for loving hearts to gather and a time to celebrate all that you are...

WE WERE ECSTATIC AND CRIED TEARS OF JOY
THE DAY YOU WERE BORN AND THE DOCTOR SAID, "IT'S A BOY!"
YOUR SISTER CALLED YOU DA' DA' AND IT STUCK LIKE GLUE WHEN WE SAID DAVID, EVERYONE SAYS, "DAVID WHO?"
YOU WERE MAMMA'S BOY AND STUCK TO MY SIDE
WHEN YOU STARTED KINDERGARTEN YOU CRIED AND CRIED
FROM THAT DAY FORWARD, SCHOOL WAS A PAIN
EVERY YEAR THE FIRST DAY YOU WOULD CRY AND COMPLAIN
YOU WORRIED SO MUCH YOUR STOMACHE WOULD ACHE
WE SAID "DON'T WORRY, IT DOESN'T MATTER WHAT GRADES YOU MAKE DO YOUR VERY BEST AND IT WILL BE OKAY"
OR "MAKE D'S LIKE ME" YOUR SISTER WOULD SAY
YOU MADE IT TO JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL WITH A PHONE OF YOUR OWN
NOT A DAY WOULD PASS THAT YOU DIDN'T CALL HOME
CHECKING TO SEE WHAT WE WERE DOING, AND IF WE WERE OKAY
"GOOD-BYE AND I LOVE YOU" YOU WOULD ALWAYS SAY
NOW YOUR IN HIGH SCHOOL WITH A PHONE OF YOUR OWN
AND HAVE TO CALL YOU TO SEE WHEN YOU ARE COMING HOME
BALL WAS YOUR FIRST WORD AND YOU LOVED TO PLAY
BUT IT WAS TIME FOR T-BALL YOU SAID "NO WAY"
WE MADE YOU PLAY BALL ON THAT FIRST DAY
NOW NOTHING WE SAY OR DO COULD PULL YOU AWAY
THERE WAS ONE TIME WHEN YOU WANTED TO QUIT
DREW CASEY PITCHED THE BALL AND YOU WERE A HIT
"I QUIT PLAYING BALL", YOU SAID THAT NIGHT
WE TOLD YOU "FEAR IS IN YOUR HEAD AND YOU MUST GO BACK AND FIGHT"
YOUR DAD WAS YOUR COACH FOR MANY A DAY
BUT YOU AND ARRON SEEMED TO SIT MORE THAN YOU WOULD PLAY
SOMETIMES YOU GOT ANGRY AND DIDN'T UNDERSTAND
BUT NOW YOU REALIZE IT MADE YOU A BETTER MAN
REMEMBER THE DAYS AT THE COURTHOUSE WHERE YOU WOULD HIT
YOU WANTED IT OVER THE FENCE BEFORE YOU WOULD QUIT THAT FENCE, OH HOW FAR IT DID SEEM
NOW THAT 200 FEET IS ONLY A DREAM
GOD HAS BLESSED YOU WITH MANY GREAT TALENTS, YOU SEE SO GO INTO THE WORLD AND BE THE BEST YOU CAN BE REMEMBER, WE LOVE YOU NO MATTER WHAT YOU BECOME
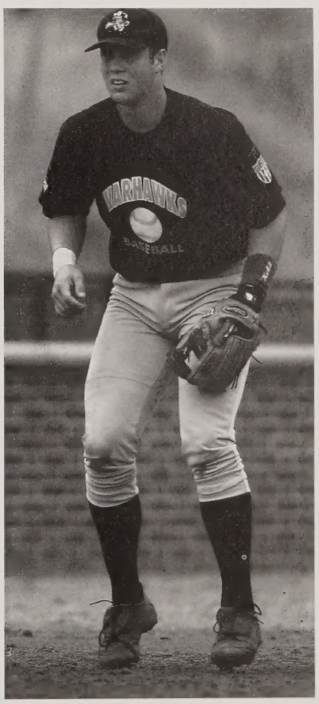
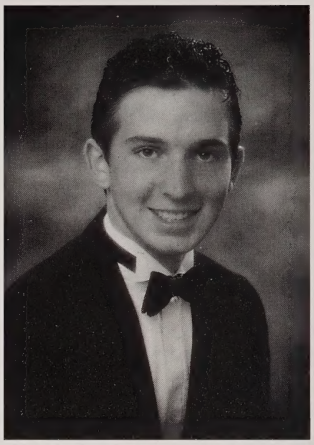
YOU WILL ALWAYS BE "DA' DA'", OUR ONLY SON

LOVE,
DAD, MOM, APRIL, AND COURTNEY



Elliot, from the child you were…



… to the man you're becoming

Our wish is that you find all of the success and happiness in life that you deserve. Congratulations! - much love, Mom, Don & Ashley

FREEBIRD

Written by Allen Collins-Ronnie Van Zant

If I leave here tomorrow
Would you still remember me?
For I must be travelling on, now,
'Cause there's too many places I've got to see.
But, if I stayed here with you, girl,
Things just couldn't be the same.
'Cause I'm as free as a bird now,
And this bird you can not change.
Lord knows, I can't change.

Bye, bye, it's been a sweet love.
Though this feeling I can't change.
But please don't take it badly,
'Cause Lord knows I'm to blame.
But, if I stayed here with you girl,
Things just couldn't be the same.
'Cause I'm as free as a bird now,
And this bird you'll never change.
And this bird you can not change.
Lord knows, I can't change.
Lord help me, I can't change.

Colophon

The 2003-2003 edition of the Heritage contained 236 pages and was published by Jostens Printing and Publishing, Winston-Salem, North Carolina. The Josten's representative was Mr. Kelly Morgan. Lifetouch National School Studios took the underclassmen and faculty portraits, the club pictures and the sports team and candid photos. Some candids of sports and club activities were taken by Heritage staff members. Prestige Studios took all the senior portraits.

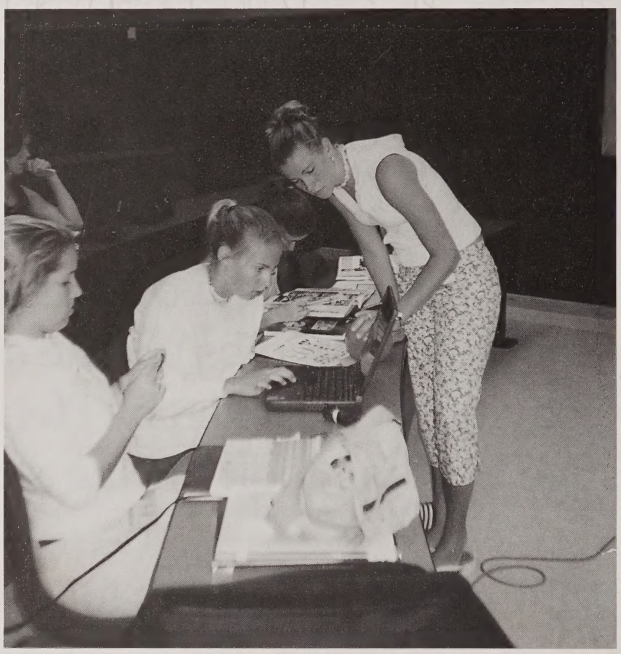
The fonts used within the book are as follows:
all folio tabs utilized American Typewriter Medium; all body copy and captions used Palatino; all division pages used Aytocowgirl for headlines , and Palatino for body copy.

Color was used in the opening, student life and senior sections. Sixteen pages of parental displays of affection were in color. Tool lines, and gray screens were used in all sections, and random student mug shots were used in the folio tabs. Art work for the folio tabs helped carry the theme throughout the book.

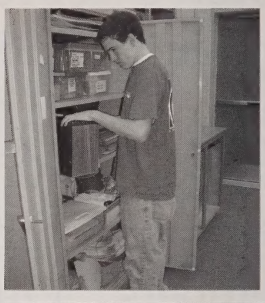
Heritage Staff

"...as a matter of fact, man himself is the most important creation and achievement of the continuous human effort, the record of what we call history."-Erich Fromm

In the computer lab at Bridgewater College, Megan Glaves, Stephanie Salter, and Aynsley Birkner create the layouts for the theme packet. By Tuesday night at 7 p.m., the girls had to submit their selection for dividers, sports, opening, title page, closing, and student life pages to the judging committee.

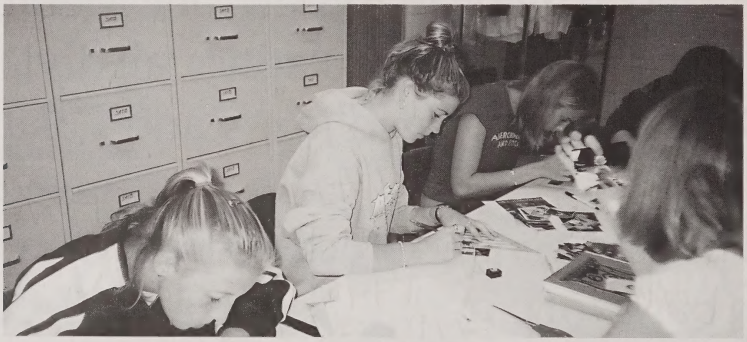


Looking for the right folder, Casey Williams searches through the sports file. The unused pictures had to be put in the correct categories so they would not get lost, and also if they should be needed later on in the year.



Trying to decid what to writ down, Katie Stite shares her idea with Ale Whitworth. Mos often, the tw worked together i a team of four t brainstorm ideas

In a surprising moment, Taber Carpenter turns to let off some stress from working on her spread. Taber completed her pages by writing copy and taking digital pictures.



Helping put together the baby picture spreads, Taber Carpenter, Aynsley Birkner, Stephanie Salter and Sarah Rogers measure and mark the photos with cropping pencils. The vast amount of photos submitted caused the staff to spend some extra time on production.

Resting before the Jostens Yearbook Workshop begins Megan Glaves, Lisa Crapps, Aynsley Birkner, an Stephanie Salter enjoy the sunshine in front of th Bridgewater College sign. The girls spent three day and two sleepless nights laying the foundation for th book.

Looking through past yearbooks for ideas, Alex Whitworth reads the different subtitles. Captions and subtitles were hard to create, but Alex always came up with a solution.

hey sweetness! what's goin on? well I had a great year getting to know you! you're a wonderful girl & I'm so happy we became such good friends! thanks for always being there when I needed someone to talk to! during the summer, if you feel lonely, just think of me & it will bring a smile to your face!! ☺ just picture him bending over! here... j/k, I got a boyfriend, who happen to be his best friend! woops! well I hope you have an excellent summer! you better call me lots to hang out! xoxo luv you! 651-2800, tootles baby!

always, Paige

Vicki!!!!!!!

Hey sexy! I can't beleive this year is over already!! Thank goodness its summer tho! We should definitly hang out more! We didn't get to as much this year :(but we must this summer! It will be glorious! Just like you! Everytime we do hang out it is tons of fun and I laugh nonstop! We have many memories together. I mean obviously... we've been friend for a bajillion years. Since fourth freakin grade! Remeber on the day before school started this year? That was so much fun! YORP!

"The first day of summer" super. I'm glad I got it really will be the first day of summer! We gotta hit up the beach and find some more seahorse It was all a part of my master plan! and we can go on hot guy hunts! mmm hot guys!! hana, well thanks for being such a great friend to me! I love you!!!

call me!

Becky

Vicki Vicki Vicki,

you are to sexy for me, but those gold medals were well worth it. Yes we will have to go to the beach. If you ever get to where you need something sexy to look at, turn to page 74. Call me & we'll hang out.

Vicki

hey beautiful! Look how grow close we have grown this year! It makes me so happy that we have become friends and these small groups of friends have grown to one big group. It's pretty kool! Although there has been a shit load of drama that came along with this group. Well I guess it made it interesting. Vicki your a beautiful person inside and out, and I know you know that! I have really grown a loving for ya, your a great person. You won't take shit from anyone, but your still laided back and chill. I love you Vicki! Your amazing! Now go get your new men!
Yes - Sean!! the the!
